Bubbly Free

NEW YORK (AP) — A mid-Manhattan restaurant Monday began serving free champagne instead of water because of the city's water shortage.

To the glasses bearing the sparkling beverage, the assembly hall attached notes to glasses, saying: "With apologies to the management, during the water shortage, champagne will serve as a substitute. Please bear with us."

Manager Bonnie Drinkhouse said he would continue the policy until the drought ends.

NDP, Grits Demand 'Unbiased' Probe

By TERRY HAMMOND

B.C. Liberal leader Ray Perrault yesterday demanded a royal commission into charges of high infant mortality in B.C. hospitals.

Opposition Leader Robert Strachan called for an unbiased and impartial investigation as a first step to determine whether or not there is any substance to the allegations.

But Health Minister Eric Martin, embroiled in a controversy with doctors since he threatened a probe of the medical profession last week, repeated that the investigation into infant mortality would be conducted by Deputy Health Minister Donald M. Cox and confined to one hospital. Both Perrault and Strachan were sharply critical of Mr. Cox's appointment.

OWN HANDWORK

"How can a deputy minister investigate his own handwork?" the Liberal leader asked.

"Both Mr. Martin and Mr. Cox have something to protect," said the NDP chief.

Mr. Cox, meanwhile, was taking steps to find out more about the charges he is supposed to investigate.

SO HARASSED

Infant mortality made headlines last week when Dr. R. E. Adams, outspoken medical director of Victoria's St. Joseph's Hospital, said B.C. hospitals are so harassed by government policies they are unable to hire enough nurses for maternity wards.

"The result is the infant mortality rate in one hospital is twice what it should have been," he told the B.C. Hospital Association convention in Vancouver.

Health Minister Martin immediately denied the infant mortality rate was linked to government policy.

Then he threatened an investigation.

GARY QUAYLE

STAIRS CRUSH CITY WORKER

By BOB PETHICK

A 24-year-old electrical worker was crushed to death on a construction job at Fort and Douglas yesterday when a two-ton, pre-cast concrete stairway gave way under him and he plunged more than 30 feet.

It was believed Gary Quayle, 390 Quayle Road, a native of Victoria, was checking some electrical wiring between the sixth and seventh floor of the Bentall Building when the stairs gave and he fell to the fourth floor steps when the heavy concrete stairs crushed him.

Workmen were unable to do anything immediately as the stairs were too heavy to be shifted off, police said.

CRANE NEEDED

The huge crane that towers over the eight-storey building had to be brought into action to lift the eighth-storey stairs out of the way before the workers were able to raise the stairs that had fallen to the fourth floor landing. There were no stairs between the fifth and sixth floors.

DEAD AT SCENE

The young worker was pronounced dead at the scene by a doctor and taken to Chaplin's funeral chapel.

Dominion Construction first aid man D. G. Rogers, 679 Barclay Street, was one of the first on the accident scene. He

Witch Sybil consults jackdaw Hotfoot Jackson

A Real Witch!

By EDDY GILMORE

BURLEY, England (AP)—Mrs. Sybil Leek—a real, live witch and proud of it—has everything ready for Halloween, including her big black cauldron.

"But I'm not riding any broom," she explains. "I'm walking on Halloween."

Then why the cauldron? "I'm taking it along—as I always do—because it gets darned cold up there in the forest."

The witch and the other 12 members of her coven will build a fire under the cauldron and brew some soup from herbs to keep them warm on Halloween.

Mrs. Leek lives in the heart of the New Forest, a

Only True Religion

spooky stretch of dense woods in Hampshire, about 100 miles southwest of London.

Mrs. Leek's coven includes both men and women. A coven is 13 witches or warlocks gathered in a witchcraft session. A warlock is a male witch.

"I'm a witch," she went on, "and I practise witchcraft because witchcraft is the only true religion. And please don't get any notion we're a lot of cranks."

"It seems to me the time is ripe for the old religion—and that's what witchcraft is—to re-establish itself. From what I know, there'll be no lack of adherents."

Asked how many witches

and warlocks live in Britain, she said: "I know of at least 600 covens."

This works out to be 7,000 practitioners of witchcraft.

"Riding a broom and all that business is foolish," said the witch.

"But don't you have a black cat?" she was asked.

"No, but I have a jackdaw and he's very black."

Mrs. Leek, who is in her late 30s, is married and has a son Julian, 12.

Mrs. Leek's husband Brian helps her with her sideline to witchcraft—an antique shop in the New Forest. Asked how he felt about his wife being a witch, Mr. Leek said:

"Let's put it this way—I'd rather have her on my side than against me."

20,000 Lose Jobs In Botulism Scare

DETROIT (AP)—A total of 20,000 Great Lake fishing industry workers will have been laid off this week because of the botulism food poisoning scare, industry men said Monday. (See also Page 19.)

Crowd Jeers in Edmonton

Screams Greet Hawrelak Foes at City Hall

EDMONTON (CP)—A quietly, A man about 35—apparently the leader of the demonstrators—told the group: "Everyone march in an orderly fashion. There will be no violence. Do not answer questions."

About 50 police officers on hand were unable to control the crowd that guarded city hall entrances against 20 to 30 University of Alberta students and professors who were protesting William Hawrelak's election as mayor two weeks ago.

The demonstration started

Later, the students and professors attempted to walk up the steps but were violently shoved back and down. Police took a bearded man—who was not identified—and escorted him to a waiting chartered city transit bus.

Five policemen guarded the bus entrance as the crowd milled around shouting: "Go home you university punks, go home."

Edmonton Journal reporter Jim Hume was accosted by a woman about 30 years old.

"She snatched my notes from my hand and tore them to shreds," he said.

"It was rough out there."

The meeting was the second since Mayor Hawrelak was elected Oct. 15. Last week, four men attempted to read a statement during the council meeting and were arrested.

Mayor Hawrelak had resigned from the mayor's post in 1959 after a judicial inquiry charged him with "gross misconduct" while in office.

Baker

German Beauty 'Deported'

U.S. Scandal Brewing

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Rep. H. R. Gross, an Iowa Republican, demanded to be told Monday whether any security violations were involved in the "deportation" of a West German beauty who bragged about her relations with what she called prominent Washington figures.

In a House speech, Gross also implied a connection between Mrs. Ella Rometach, the 27-year-old wife of a German army sergeant, and the Senate inquiry into the activities of Robert G. (Bobby) Baker, former Senate Democratic secretary.

The Senate rules committee opens a closed-door investigation today into the multiple, business deal of Baker, 35, who rose from Senate page boy to become an influential figure on Capitol Hill and a reputed millionaire.

Gross, a sometimes maverick congressman, said the House was concerned in the Baker case because it had been called on to approve his salary "as well as other federal funds spent by this Ponzi from Pickens, South Carolina."

Charles Ponzi was a financial manipulator who operated out of Boston in the 1920s.

"Among other things, I want to know the circumstances under which a young German woman was hastily deported from this country a few weeks ago following an FBI investigation," said Gross.

"Members of Congress and the public are entitled to know whether there was any element of security violation concerned in this speedy and hitherto unpublicized deportation."

In Bonn, a West German defence ministry spokesman said the woman, described as a "ravishing beauty," was deemed a security risk because of her high living while in Washington. But he said a German investigation showed she had no contacts with Communists.

The German embassy in Washington said the woman's husband, a member of a German

Security Reviews Won't Look Back

OTTAWA (UPI) — Prime Minister Pearson yesterday announced a suggestion that new government procedures for reviewing alleged security cases be made retroactive to cover previous complaints in this field.

He told the Commons such a move would open the way for review of every security case on government files and "might well lead to an impossible situation."

He told David Orlow, Minister of Justice, that the new procedures would be announced Friday, cover armed service personnel as well as civilian public servants.

Under the new system, any civil servant dismissed on security grounds will be informed as to the basis of the charges against him and will have an opportunity to appeal to a committee of senior civil servants.

Canada, U.S. Keep in Touch

OTTAWA (UPI) — Prime Minister Lester B. Pearson indicated yesterday that his government was in touch several times during the weekend with the United States government about picketing and boycotting of Canadian vessels in U.S. ports.

The prime minister told the Commons that the government was in touch "again this morning" with the U.S. government, and that the U.S. state department had been "informed of the view of the government of Canada."

The actions in U.S. ports are retaliation against the Canadian government's establishing a three-man trusteeship to clean up the Great Lakes situation.

In Washington Labor Secretary W. Willard Wirtz told senators yesterday that the labor department is doing everything possible to keep the Great Lakes maritime conflict from blowing a new hole in Canadian-U.S. relations.

Wirtz briefed a special meeting of the Senate Canadian Affairs Subcommittee on the Great Lakes situation and on the picketing of a Canadian ship at Superior, Wis., last week.

Sen. George D. Aiken said

Wirtz "looked hopeful" about chances that wide-scale picketing of Canadian shipping in U.S. ports could be avoided. But he said "we can't guarantee anything."

New Powers Against Drugs

OTTAWA (CP) — The federal cabinet has brought into force new regulations empowering the health minister, as a public health measure, to stop clinical trials of new drugs and ban their sale.

Informants said Monday night that the new regulations were framed partly as a result of the thalidomide tragedy in 1961 and 1962. More than 50 Canadian babies whose mothers used thalidomide were born deformed.

City Wrenette Corps Officially the Best

A silver trophy for the highest standard of efficiency in Canada was awarded Sunday to the Patricia Dufour Navy League Wrenette Corps.

The 40 teen-aged girls were joined in the ceremony by members of Rainbow Sea Cadets and Admiral Rayner Navy League Cadets. All groups are members of the Victoria branch of the Navy League of Canada.

Hundreds of guests watched

Denis W. Brown, national vice-president of the league, present the award to Mrs. Dufour, after whom the corps is named.

Mrs. Dufour presented colors to her corps and also presented the national trophy to PO Joan Marshall, the group's gunnery instructor.

The corps was authorized as an official unit in a warrant presented to Lieut. Audrey Stevens, the commanding officer.

Construction superintendent Joseph Pepman said no one was near Mr. Quayle when the accident occurred. He said exactly what happened would not be known until today at the earliest when officials would go over the accident scene trying to learn the reason.

A carpenter, Hans Hansen of Battery Street said he had been working on the stairs on the third floor and had just stepped out of the stairwell when he heard the crash.

investigation into the treatment of maternity cases by physicians.

But when he launched a probe it was into the charge of an above-normal infant mortality rate at one hospital. He said he knew which hospital Dr. Adams had referred to.

Last Friday Mr. Martin went a step further and said the original allegations might have been part of a political plot. "It smells," he said at that time.

NO COMMENT

Yesterday he refused to comment on the case at all except to say that in appointing Mr. Cox to examine the case he is simply fulfilling the requirements of statutes.

Mr. Cox said that before he can pursue his investigation he wants to determine the exact nature of the charges, the name of the hospital and the nature of the infant deaths. He will write to Dr. Adams.

Mr. Strachan said the charges came to him as a surprise.

"We have known for years that the present method of allocating funds to hospitals would lead to poorer service."

He said hospital boards are forced to operate "within a penny-pinching formula dictated by Victoria" and that they have become nothing more than "puppets for government policy."

impending investigation by Mr. Cox with last spring's legislative committee investigation into charges against Highways Minister Gagliardi and his department.

"Another ineffectual investigation," he termed it.

He said the public is concerned over the charges and the investigation by a deputy minister concerned with government policies "isn't going to be at all reassuring."

SUPPORTED IDEA

Dr. Adams also supported the idea of an impartial probe. And he joined B.C. Hospital Association president R. H. Proctor in calling for a continuing province-wide study of infant mortality.

The woman's husband now is stationed near Bonn and has filed for divorce.

The woman was said to have attracted the attention of the FBI because of her expensive clothes and high standard of living, all ostensibly on the pay of an army sergeant. She also had a habit of dropping the names of prominent Washingtonians, it was said.

According to some reports, the German beauty frequented the Quorum Club, a private club in a Capitol Hill hotel which was a gathering place for some members of Congress and many lobbyists.

Baker was a charter member and the first secretary of the club which, according to its charter, was formed "to establish, maintain and operate a club for literary purposes, mutual improvement and the promotion of social intercourse."

Women Shouldn't Be Upset By Matter of Percentages

By JOSEPH MOLNER, MD

Dear Dr. Molner: You recently wrote that X-rays could endanger the baby in the first three or four months of pregnancy. I was pregnant just a few days when I had several X-rays taken. I am very much concerned. The doctor X-rayed my gall bladder and lower stomach.—Mrs. L.K.

First of all, maybe no harm came from the X-rays. Let's say probably there was no harm. For Mrs. L.K. and for all the others who wrote to me, the X-rays were not of the pelvic area, but of the chest, stomach, gall bladder.

STOP WORRYING

The question is not whether the pregnant mother-to-be had X-rays, but whether they reached the cell, the fertilized ovum, which is the beginning of the baby. Assuming that the ovum was not penetrated by the rays, then we can stop worrying.

Let's suppose, however, that

X-rays were taken of the lower intestinal tract, or some area including the lower abdomen. In that case, they may have caused a mutation, some change in the developing life.

These mutations can occur in humans and plants. Sometimes the change is for the better; more often it is harmful. Sometimes the change, while indicating a difference, may be unimportant.

NOT TOO UPSET

Therefore, I say to women, who, unknowingly, have had X-rays early in pregnancy, don't get too upset over an exposure of perhaps one-tenth of a second.

It's a matter of fractions, percentages and chance. Let's play the percentages. It is safer to avoid X-ray exposure in the early months of pregnancy. If, in the few days before having an X-ray, a woman believes she may be pregnant, she should tell her doctor. He may, depending on circumstances, decide that the X-rays should still be made, but he will take extra care to be sure that the lower abdomen will not be exposed.

Dear Dr. Molner: My wife and I have been using powdered garlic for flavoring foods. I have even used it right out of the shaker in small amounts without the food. Does such garlic aggravate high blood pressure?—A.A.

No. It is a condiment, a seasoning, or flavoring, and not a medicine. It neither aggravates high blood pressure, nor, as some used to think, relieves it.

Dear Dr. Molner: Is there any medication a young woman can take to increase her bustline? Exercise is not helping.—Mrs. J.W.

Good posture will do more than anything. Adding some weight also helps. But it's mostly a matter of heredity, and you can't do anything about that.

Helena, Ginny Go Easy

CAPE HATTERAS, N.C. (UPI) — Hurricane Ginny thrashed the open Atlantic Monday, a menace only to shipping, and tropical storm Helena showed signs of breaking up off the Leeward Islands far to the south.

Ginny puffed its 95-mile-an-hour winds in a northeasterly direction, raising the prospect of gale winds along Cape Cod from the fringes of the storm that kept the eastern seaboard guessing last week.

An advisory placed Ginny about 230 miles east of Cape Hatteras.

Helena, which claimed five lives when it hit Guadeloupe in the French Antilles, barely rated its designation as the season's eighth tropical storm. Highest winds were 35 to 40 miles an hour.

Jelly Babies Riot

LONDON (AP) — In towns all over Britain girls fainted yesterday when they saw the Beatles' favorite candy left behind by their adoring.

The four Beatles from the tough dockland area of Liverpool have hit the $280,000-a-year bracket in less than 12 months.

Thousands of pop fans lined up outside theatres for tickets to hear the Beatles, the four-man pop music group at the top of Britain's hit parade.

Bournemouth police linked arms to form back the fans, some of whom had waited 50 hours.

At Hull, 2,000 screaming youngsters swept aside police barriers in their rush for tickets.

In Cambridge, teenagers threw bottles through church windows and in Manchester, mounted police went into action to restrain the fans.

Sabotage Trial Begins Today

PRETORIA, South Africa (UPI) — Eleven alleged opponents of the South African government go on trial here today charged with plotting its violent overthrow.

The four whites, six Africans and one Indian are said to have committed 222 separate acts of sabotage in preparation for the alleged rebellion which was to include guerrilla warfare and armed invasion from outside the republic.

BIGGEST TRIAL
It will be the nation's biggest security trial and it will be heard before Justice Quartus de Wet.

The accused are Walter Sisulu, former president of the banned African Congress (ANC), Nelson Mandela, former ANC president, Govan Mbeki, former ANC provincial leader, Raymond Mhlaba, Ahmed Mohammed Kathrada, former secretary of the Transvaal Indian Congress; Dennis Goldberg, former leader of the Congress of Democrats; Lionel Bernstein, an architect; James Kantor, Elias Matsonaleli; Andrew Mlangeni and Bob Alexander Hepple, a lawyer whose father was a South African Labor Party MP.

Convicts Stage Sitdown Strike

SAN QUENTIN, Calif. (AP) — San Quentin prison's more than 4,000 convicts staged a sitdown strike yesterday in California's second prison strike within a week. One group set up a picket line. Others refused to go to work in prison shops.

Prison officials said it was a quiet action, apparently in sympathy with a stop-work strike last week in Folsom prison for more pay and shorter terms.

Last Tuesday at Folsom more than 2,000 quit work in prison industries. Today, 1,080 were back on the job.

NOT FIT
On Oct. 9 a hearing was held and the defence, led by Abraham Fischer, QC, pointed to the men in the dock and said they were not in a fit state to face the coming trial.

"They need considerable rest," he said. "For 90 days they have been in solitary confinement for 23 hours a day. They have had one hour of exercise. They have not been allowed to talk to anyone."

TWO DAYS

"... No more than two days solitary confinement and spare diet per week is allowed under the present (criminal) code," he continued. "These accused have been in confinement for 88 days. They have been subjected to other stresses and strains. Threats have been made."

Rally Round Moscow Russia Begs Labor

MOSCOW (UPI) — The Soviet trade union congress opened Monday with an appeal to world labor movements to rally around Moscow and not be lured to the rival Communist Chinese camp.

The appeal seemed directed especially to movements in the Afro-Asian countries in another indication of the widening ideological rift between Moscow and Peking.

Viktor Grishin, chairman of the Soviet all-union central council to trade unions, spoke of the dispute in a long inaugural address before more than 4,000 Soviet delegates and guests from 80 countries. A tiny Peking labor group was present.

Premier Khrushchev and almost all of the presidium were there. Absent were presidium members Mikhail Suslov, Anastas Mikoyan and Frol Kozlov.

Security Review

IT IS AT LEAST a step forward that a person in civilian or military government employ will be given a chance to rebut any suggestion that he is a security risk. The gross injustice of a man being dismissed for a cause unknown to him will to that extent be removed.

He will be told the reason for his dismissal and given the opportunity to appear before a board of review. This "second look" is to be welcomed as some assurance that fair play will obtain, in sharp contrast to the procedures which have existed up to now.

One accepts the decision that such review must take place in secret, since an open hearing would invite revelation of information which would not be in the interests of the state to disclose. But unless a victim of over-zealous and arbitrary action is permitted counsel to aid him—and "security" can be invoked when in fact security may not actually be at stake—he may find it difficult to make proper representations on his own behalf.

It is not so reassuring either that a person may still be branded as a security risk simply because he has relatives who may be suspect as Communists or otherwise have beliefs inimical to the welfare of the nation. No person can be answerable for the behavior of his relatives and it is a disquieting tenet that this should be a governing factor in such cases. There is an extant illustration in the instance of a local ex-sailor dismissed from the RCN because his father-in-law was once a Communist.

Even the assumption that this may make the individual concerned liable to pressure from a relative holding suspect beliefs does not of itself warrant a person being branded as a security risk where his own activities are not in question. The dividing line may be difficult for a government department to draw, but care should be taken not to jump to unproved conclusions.

Presumably the board of review which is to be set up, commendably not composed of the departmental heads immediately concerned, will remember that a cardinal point of justice is that a person is deemed to be innocent until he is proved otherwise; not merely that he might because of some future possibility become guilty.

Otherwise the safeguards of security—which apply as much in respect to an individual's own cause as that of the state—will not be equitable.

A Poor Base

WINNIPEG has set a new record for voting in civic elections—but it is the kind of record that does the voters no credit. Only 22.8 per cent of those eligible turned out to cast ballots, the lowest percentage ever recorded in the Manitoba capital.

The reason given for this poor display of interest—the usual one on such occasions—is that there was no mayoralty contest this year.

While this may feather the cap of mayoralty candidates it is small comfort to those offering themselves for the board of aldermen. Nor does it say much for the voters themselves. It is just as important that citizens show interest in the kind of councillors they elect as in the person who will preside over their deliberations. A mayor gives the leadership but he needs a strong board for the best governance of a city. A municipal council is not, or should not be, a one-man affair.

Victoria hasn't ever quite matched this low Winnipeg rating in its civic elections but it has come close to it. Some years ago only 25 per cent of the voters turned out for a non-mayoralty election, and the average in such years is around only one-third of the eligible voters. This city cannot therefore cast any stones.

The picture should be brighter in all of the municipal areas of Greater Victoria this December, since mayor and reeves are due for election or re-election. Even if unopposed in some instances this should be cause for a respectable show of public attention and it is to be hoped this proves to be the case.

In the city presumably Mayor Wilson will run for a second term, which warrants a good voting percentage even if he is unopposed. A reeveship contest is on the cards for Esquimalt and possibly one may be forthcoming in Saanich. In Oak Bay a woman candidate has registered for a seat on the council, a departure in that municipality which should stimulate the flow of voters to the polls even if the reeveship goes by acclamation.

The underlying premise of all municipal elections is that the poll should reflect a whole-hearted concern for municipal affairs. Apathy such as has been evident in Winnipeg, and in the past in Victoria, is a poor base on which to build good local government.

In Need of Mending

HOW CAN anyone expect a small boy to understand that when it's firecracker time on one side of Tolmie Avenue—for example—it's not on the other?

The shopkeepers understand this well enough, no doubt, and to their chagrin if they are located in Saanich, Oak Bay or Esquimalt, to their gratification if in Victoria.

The municipal policemen will understand it too, and must be mortified if called upon to get after little residents for setting off fireworks prematurely on the wrong side of a line which to them doesn't exist. No wonder the constables seem to be otherwise occupied, although it must be noted that the city police also appear none too keen on enforcing the prohibition of exploding crackers on the streets, which is common to the whole area.

But young lads must be completely puzzled about the strange ways of their seniors when in a community which they can only regard as their unpartitioned home ground, Victoria allows sales of fireworks for a week before Halloween, and the adjoining municipalities permit sales for just two days and restrict use to October 31.

This is a ridiculous anomaly, and one much in need of mending. It is the result of Victoria's bylaw being based on one provincial act which allows special public shows under permit, and the bylaws of the neighboring corporations being based on another which doesn't, according to the city's advice.

The general will of the people of the metropolitan area and of each of its parts undoubtedly is that Halloween activities should be confined to that special day. But there are a few other occasions when the use of fireworks by permission of the authorities is appropriate—in connection with Chinese celebrations, for instance.

Is it too much to ask that before another year has passed, and the peculiar disparity has come to the fore again, that the Greater Victoria municipalities should go to the provincial government and request a simple change in legislation that will permit them to have uniform bylaws satisfactory to all?

By TOM TAYLOR

NATIONS export commodities, peoples, precepts and social habits. These take root in fresh soil and tend to become native to the importing countries. So it is with football, the kind known in our milieu as soccer, which has overlaid the world with major emphasis. Only North America, having its own sports specialties of predominant favor, lacks a foremost place in this global scene.

There was a game at Wembley last week, mentioned in our local sports columns, which illustrated how this British export has been received, adopted and embellished with enthusiasm.

It was more than a game, even if it was described as the "match of the century," a contest of skills between an English eleven and sixteen of the elite of the "Rest of the World." Eleven didn't play 16 all at once; the Rest team used substitutes in order that the spectators could relish the aptitudes of foreign feet, currently masters of the football art.

Nothing was at stake but the status and prestige of the game itself, and the fixture was part of the centennial celebration of the Football Association of England. A football was kicked about in Britain long before the game became marshalled under orderly rules of play, and there may be an argument as to who initiated the sport, but it was the FA which gave it form and identity 100 years ago.

And this game was the highlight of a week's soccer festival. Russia could describe it as a symbol and say "there is not a football-playing country which would not consider it a duty to express appreciation to the organizers of a great game, which has now taken possession of the whole world."

That was not idly said. Soccer is played in some 120 countries and for many of them it has become the national sport. Russia itself is now one of the leading exponents and had a representative in the Rest team at Wembley.

From his far distant eyrie years truly ventured two weeks ago to suggest that England couldn't hope to win, and the Daily Express expert of this realm said on the eve of the match, "England will be well beaten." As it happened England won 2-1, not only to confound these prophecies but to remind the world that the original soil was still fertile.

But it was the composition of the Rest sixteen that bespoke the global absorption of this British export. There were players from Brazil, West Germany, Czechoslovakia, France, Spain, Portugal, Yugoslavia, Chile, all cited as soccer artists of world standing. Two Scots also were among them, fittingly enough since they reflect another source of this British diffusion.

Moreover, and as evidence of the resilience and innate capacities of race irrespective of color—already being demonstrated globally on the political scene—the Rest assemblage emphasized anew that soccer is now the engrossing sport of varying climes. It is played by those of Latin, Anglo-Saxon, Celtic, Nordic, Slav and Negroid strains. It is no longer the prerogative of its exporters, and in fact its adoption in other lands has illumined the game with new concepts and flexibility.

Only North America has resisted the sweep of soccer on its highest levels, but here also an export is winning a place in import lands. Its fervor for baseball and ice hockey is finding echo in import areas which bids fair perhaps to emulate the ethos of their founders.

But football in soccer fashion we see, is now a veritable UN of sport, showing how patterns of life change and intermingle and become an accepted part of all nationalities.

A Look at Yugoslavia

Warm-Hearted, Zestful People

By COLIN CAMERON, MP

(Second of Two Parts)

EVERY now and then a Yugoslavian will tell you dourly that there is no freedom. But they are never very explicit about this lack of freedom, perhaps from caution, or as often seemed to me because they were unable to pinpoint it. It is true that while a Yugoslavian is theoretically allowed to set up in private business, he will not be able to get bank credit and he will be limited to five employees.

It is difficult to determine how much control is exercised over citizens who wish to leave the country, that is to say official control in addition to the currency regulations which prevent people taking more than a very limited amount of money out of the country—regulations similar to those in effect in Great Britain up until a few years ago.

On the one hand I met an old gentleman, a vigorous opponent of the regime, who had just returned from a trip to Paris. But on the other I heard it was difficult if not impossible for a young man to leave.

Every Yugoslavian man is called for military service at 20 years of age. But

Satisfying Increase

From The Telegram, Toronto

THE most gratifying sign in the employment figures for mid-September is not the decline in unemployment since mid-August, which is normal for the time of year, but the increase of 180,000 in the number of Canadians at work since mid-September, 1962.

Only a few months ago the annual increase was running as low as 70,000 or 80,000. It was alarmingly slow. An increase of 180,000 jobs, on the other hand, brings within sight the rate of 200,000 new jobs a year the experts estimate we need in order to cut the backlog of chronic unemployment and absorb the youngsters who will be coming on the labor market in the next few years.

Important to Canada

African Contacts

By HOWARD GREEN

Former Secretary of State for External Affairs

THE continent of Africa is seldom out of the headlines these days and I expect this will continue to be the case for some years. After all, it has been the last continent to come to life and stirring events can be expected.

In many ways it is the most interesting continent of all. In this age of the widespread freeing of colonies there is something very exciting in watching new nation after new nation gain independence, take its place in the United Nations and begin the long and painful process of nation-building.

What happens in Africa may be of great importance to Canada and in any event we have many opportunities to help the new countries there; in addition it should never be forgotten that each of these countries has a vote in the United Nations and if Canada is to get her resolutions accepted she must have the support of at least half the member states; and on important resolutions a two-thirds majority is required. The Africans loom very large in the voting in New York and there are more new African nations to join—such as Kenya which becomes independent in December.

What is the present position of Canada's relations with the countries of Africa? The former government, realizing the importance of that continent, moved wherever possible to develop African contacts. For example we established diplomatic relations with a large number of these countries; high commissioners were sent to the Commonwealth nations of Nigeria and Tanganyika; an ambassador set up an embassy in Cameroon; our representative in Congo (Leopoldville) was given the status of consul-general; and many other countries were covered by multiple accreditation so that a Canadian ambassador would at least visit them several times a year. This made extra work for our foreign service officers but they are a devoted lot and know the importance for Canada of African friends.

In this way we contacted

Sudan through our embassy in Cairo; Tunisia through our ambassador to Switzerland (there is good air service between these countries); and Morocco from Madrid. Further south the Canadian high commissioners in Nigeria and Ghana and our ambassador to Cameroon cover between them the Commonwealth country of Sierra Leone and 11 nations which were formerly French colonies; they are independent but all except Guinea belong to the French Community which corresponds to our Commonwealth.

Over in East Africa our high commissioner to Tanganyika is also accredited to Uganda and no doubt will include Kenya and Zanzibar in his territory when they become independent and join the Commonwealth.

We have, of course, had representation in South Africa for many years, first through a high commissioner and after South Africa left the Commonwealth, by an ambassador. Eventually there should be one in Algeria and one in Ethiopia and when the troublesome problem of Southern Rhodesia is solved we shall need representation in the Rhodesias.

Canada has three great advantages in building up African contacts—first that she has never been a colonial power and in fact was a colony herself until a few decades ago; second that she is bilingual; and third her close contacts with African members of the Commonwealth.

In twenty-one of the countries of Africa, French is the language of their governments and fortunately we have many foreign service officers able to speak to the leaders in that language. It is significant that representatives of these countries attending sessions of the United Nations usually prefer Montreal, Quebec and Ottawa to New York because in our cities they can use their own language and are welcomed as equals.

To help build friendships with these countries we provided a fund of $300,000 per year which has been used largely to send out French-speaking teachers. I hope the amount will be increased for there is great need and we receive excellent value in the form of good will. Without this plan our French-speaking universities and teachers would have little opportunity to participate in this type of aid.

Most Canadians have been slow to realize the important part Canada can play in the French-speaking countries of the world.

For the Commonwealth countries of Africa we provided aid amounting to about $3,500,000 per year and in addition they benefit under the Commonwealth Scholarship Plan initiated by my predecessor the late Hon. Sidney Smith.

Another valuable contact for Canada with Africa has been service on the Congo committee of the United Nations. Countries contributing a substantial number of troops to the UN Congo force became members of this committee. There are only three of the so-called white countries—Canada, Ireland and Sweden; the other 15 or more are African or Asian. As a member of the Congo committee—Canada has learned a great deal about the problems facing African nations, has made many friends and has been able to exercise a moderating influence.

All in all our contacts with Africa have been friendly and useful. No one can tell how far or how quickly or in what direction the nations of that continent will move. But that they are moving rapidly there can be no doubt and Canada is now in a good position to help them and to gain their support for her own proposals in world affairs.

Nor must we forget Jovan, the bellboy-cum-dish-cup at the hotel, who spoke excellent English. Jovan was a gay, irrepressible and I fear, quite amoral young man, who confided to me that he was actually much better with girls than with his English. When I said I had no doubt he was, the young rip, he gave me a puzzled look.

"Rip? I do not know Rip." When I explained a light dawned and with a bearing smile he said "I see. A rip is a young man who likes girls and cognac and to have a good time—yes, I am a rip." But Jovan had a very tender and engaging smile on his face when he told me he would spend the rip I gave him on a present "for the little girl of my sister."

The depression of the 1930s began 24 years ago today—in 1929—when the New York stock market collapsed. Frenzied selling saw 16,000,000 shares change hands. By the end of 1929, stocks had declined $15,000,000,000 in value. Losses to the end of 1931 were estimated at $50,000,000,000 with 25,000,000 persons affected.

Cloud Nine Honeymoon For Jumpers

VERNON, B.C. (CP)—It's turning into a Cloud Nine honeymoon for Jacques and Lilliane Callan.

Married Oct. 3 in Winnipeg, the two are barnstorming through the west with a repertoire of parachute demonstrations, passing the helmet among crowds that gather to watch.

They are in the Okanagan Valley now and gave a performance here Sunday before about 500 spectators at the local airport.

Callan does a free fall from 8,000 feet to 2,000 feet, then pulls the ripcord.

BEHIND CAR

Lilliane, who has been practicing her role for a year, specializes in the "kite chute," in which she and her parachute are attached by a 600-foot rope to her husband's car, and pulled until she becomes airborne. The stunt can take her as high as 450 feet.

Installed

Installed last night as chairman of the Society of Architectural and Engineering Technologists of B.C. was George E. Douglas, former vice-chairman, and a member of the organization's provincial council for the past three years. Also named to the executive were John W. Paynter, vice-chairman; Myron Sambad, secretary; and W. A. Molner, treasurer.

Compensation Pay Evaded By Railways, Say Unions

MONTREAL (CP)—Unions representing 150,000 railway workers said yesterday Canada's railways are using a legal loophole to avoid paying compensation to employees who are displaced by automation or other changes in the carriers' operations.

There was no immediate comment from railway spokesmen on the charge.

The unions, representing both non-operating employees and the running trades, said the Railway Act provides that workers be compensated for any financial loss caused by a move forced by changes in a railway's operations.

The unions said, however, that interpretations given the act have left the way open to the railways to lay off workers and replace them with short-term "care-takers" to avoid paying compensation.

Frank Hall, chairman of the unions' conference committee, said the unions are trying to have the Railway Act amended to clarify the pertinent section "so the spirit of the act can be followed."

Couldn't Watch Birth Barred Father Loses Case

OTTAWA (CP)—The Supreme Court of Canada Monday rejected a damage action launched by a Stanley, Man., farmer after he was refused permission to watch his wife give birth to a child in the Bethel Hospital at Winkler.

The court also dismissed an action by Henry K. Elias against Dr. Harold U. Penner for failing to live up to a "contract" to permit him to be present in the hospital delivery room when another woman of his wife's age was giving birth to a child.

DISMISSED

The case involved an application by Mr. Elias for leave to appeal against Manitoba court decisions dismissing his action against Dr. Penner. The supreme court rejected the application after a brief hearing without giving reasons.

The case dates back to Nov. 4, 1954, when Mr. Elias' wife gave birth to a child. Mr. Elias said at the time that he wished to be present in the delivery room but Dr. Penner refused his request.

After the birth of the child, Mr. Elias launched a damage action against Dr. Penner on the grounds that the doctor had interfered with his right to witness the birth. He said he had this right under the terms of a marriage contract he and his wife had signed.

Mr. Elias claimed damages for "irretrievable personal loss." He said the wrong he suffered was an "intolerable outrage" and a "gross injustice."

Mr. Elias claimed that after the birth of the child, Dr. Penner agreed to make it possible for him to witness the birth of a child by another woman of his wife's age.

The supreme court upheld lower court decisions ruling

D. C. Brown Rites Today

VANCOUVER (CP)—Funeral services will be held today for Donald C. Brown, former MLA and husband of the late B.C. minister without portfolio, Mrs. Buda Brown.

Mr. Brown, 72, was an MLA during the Liberal-Progressive Conservative coalition in B.C. and served as deputy speaker and Conservative party whip.

He later became a supporter of Social Credit. He was active in implementing the B.C. Hospital Insurance Service and a leader in community organizations. He founded Wild Rose Flour Mills in 1933.

OTTAWA (UPI)—Health Minister Judy LaMarsh yesterday expressed the hope that the Canada pension plan legislation would go before the Commons "before the end of this session," and gave assurance that existing pension plans would not be affected. She told 400 delegates attending the National Liberal Women's convention that if it was not possible this session, she hoped debate could begin on the pension legislation "at the very first of the next session."

Funeral Rites Thursday For Candidate's Father

Funeral services will be held Thursday for Ernest Knott, 3416 Seymour, who died suddenly Saturday in Vancouver.

Mr. Knott's son is Ernest L. Knott, a Communist candidate for Victoria in the last provincial election.

Mr. Knott was born in Cambridge, England, and came to B.C. in 1920, settling in Hilliers. He had lived in Victoria for 13 years.

Mr. Knott served overseas in the First World War with the Canadian army, and was a member of the Britannia Branch, Royal Canadian Legion.

He is survived by his widow, Mary, a daughter, Mrs. K. Picas, Nanaimo, son Ernest, five grandchildren and two great-grandchildren.

Funeral services will be held at 10:30 a.m. in Hayward's Chapel, with burial in Civic Cemetery, Nanaimo.

FIVE DAY WEEK JUST A DREAM

Although a 5 day week is a reality for many Canadians, for hundreds of thousands a 5 day week is just a dream... as any mother of small children will tell you.

Up at the crack of dawn—fetching, carrying, washing, ironing, preparing meals and formulas all day long—7 days a week. She wonders how she could possibly do more.

If she's your wife, you certainly wouldn't trade places with her. Yet think how much EXTRA she'd have to do if anything happened to your income and she was forced to go back to work. Worse still, perhaps, think how many things for your children would be left undone!

There is one sure way to guarantee that this won't happen to your wife and family and that is by your purchase now of sufficient permanent personal life insurance.

May we suggest you talk over your future financial plans and your present health insurance protection with a trained representative of The Excelsior Life Insurance Company, the Company helping Canadians help themselves to peace of mind.

Brown Shackled by Giants And Browns Clank to Halt

By The Associated Press

New York Giants manhandled Frank Ryan and mauled the previously unbeaten Cleveland Browns 33-6 in a National Football League shocker that overshadowed Green Bay's strong performance behind a pair of second-stringers.

Y. A. STARS

The Giants, who lost to the Browns 35-24 in New York two weeks ago, turned the tables at Cleveland with a sharp offense led by Y. A. Tittle's unerring aerials and a determined defense that completely shackled the Browns' offense.

Brown, the league's No. 1 rusher, who was averaging more than 150 yards a game, gained only 40 in nine carries while Ryan completed only one pass in nine attempts for minus six yards. Not until the final six minutes were the Browns able to move the ball out of their own territory.

Brown wound up the game on the sidelines, after being ejected along with Giants' defender Tom Scott following a first-stringing battle in the last 52 seconds. They pummeled each other on the ground before order was restored.

The defending league champion Packers, meanwhile, made the most of key performances by substitute quarterback John Rosh and Elijah Pitts, filling in for Tom Moore.

and remained in a tie for the Western Conference lead with a 34-20 walloping of Baltimore Colts.

The Packers are tied at 6-1 with Chicago Bears, who rebounded from last week's first defeat for a 16-7 decision over Philadelphia Eagles. The Browns, 6-1, are out front in the East by one game over New York and St. Louis Cardinals, both 5-2.

The Cardinals whipped Washington Redskins 21-7 on Charlie Johnson's three touchdown passes. Ed Brown passed for four touchdowns in Pittsburgh Steelers' 27-21 triumph over Dallas Cowboys. Detroit Lions defeated Minnesota Vikings 28-10 and Los Angeles Rams knocked off San Francisco 49ers 28-21.

OLIGES GO AHEAD

In the American League, Houston Oilers took over first place in the Eastern Division with a 5-3 record after a 28-7 triumph of Kansas City Chiefs. Western Division leading San Diego Chargers were upset by Oakland Raiders 34-33 on Cotton Davidson's nine-yard touchdown pass to Glenn Shaw.

New York	7	3	2	2	6
Boston	7	3	2	2	6

Sunday's games: Montreal 6 at Detroit 4; Toronto 6 at Boston 2; Chicago 4 at New York 1.
Next game: tonight, Detroit at Chicago.

It doesn't seem likely that he'll grant it but Clarence Campbell, president of the National Hockey League, is now face to face with Maurice Richard's pitch for an asterisk in the NHL record books.

"Don't forget," Richard said last week after Gordie Howe got within one goal of equalling Richard's lifetime record of 544 goals. "Howe has played in more than 1,100 games. I think they should keep my record in the book just like they did with Babe Ruth when Roger Maris hit his 61 home runs in 162 games a few years ago."

FANS GO WILD

Howe pulled even on Sunday night in Detroit, getting his fourth goal of the season and the 544th of his career in his 1,126th game to touch off a wild demonstration by 14,749 fans.

It came in the third period of a game the Red Wings lost, 4-6, to Montreal Canadiens, and it stopped all action on the ice for five minutes as shouting fans littered the ice with everything throwable.

NO FLAKE

Howe's record-tying goal was a clean-cut shot. He banged in a pass-out from Bruce McGee on a power play from short range. Also drawing an assist—the 400th of his career—was defenceman Bill Gadabry, like Howe playing his 18th NHL season.

Howe's goal brought the score to 5-4 but right after the ice had been cleared, Gilles Tremblay came back with the clincher for Canadiens.

Canadiens, who should have won their Saturday night game against Chicago Black Hawks, outplayed the Wings all the way. Jean Beliveau scored twice and Bernie Geoffrion, also off to a great start, got his sixth goal of the season.

The Beliveau-John Ferguson-Geoffrion line has now accounted for 13 of Canadiens' 24 goals and added 20 assists to rank as the highest-scoring unit in the league.

Howe's goal took the spotlight away from Boston Bruins, who got their first win of the season by blanking Toronto Maple Leafs, 2-0, behind the exceptional goaling of Ed Johnston.

At New York, the Chicago Black Hawks boosted their leading margin to four points by defeating the Rangers, 4-1. Don Marshall gave the goals in the third period.

Rangers a 10 lead and goalie Glenn Hall played spectacularly in the first period while his club played two men short the Hawks finally took over.

Bobby Hull tied it in the last minute of the first period and Ab McDonald scored 37 seconds later. McDonald and Jack McKenzie added insurance goals in the third period.

Montreal Veterans Away Fast

Bernie Geoffrion and Jean Beliveau, two of hockey's great veterans, are away to a great start in the National Hockey League.

Off to his best start in six seasons, Geoffrion has six goals and six assists from his first seven games and is tied for the lead with linemate Beliveau and Stan Mikita, youthful Chicago Black Hawk veteran.

Rookie John Ferguson is benefitting from the fine start made by Geoffrion and Beliveau and is nine points, one behind Bobby Hull of Chicago.

Geoffrion, Mikita and Bruce MacGregor of Detroit are tied in goals scored while Beliveau leads the playmakers with nine assists.

Fresno Open Ends Streak For Rudolph

FRESNO, Calif. (AP) — Mason Rudolph won the $25,000 Fresno Open Sunday, after leading from the first round. It was his first professional golfing victory in four years.

The bespectacled 29-year-old wrapped up the $3,500 first-place money with a closing round of 35-36-71 over the 7,181-yard, par 36-36-72 San Joaquin Country Club course. That gave him 66-67-71-71—275 total, 13 under par, and three strokes better than runners-up Tommy Aaron and Al Geiberger.

George Knudson of Toronto was sixth with 71-69-70-73—283 and won $1,333.33. Montreal's Al Johnston tied for 21st place with 71-73-71-75—290 and won $275.

'64 Jet-smooth Luxury CHEVROLET

A General Motors Value '64 Chevrolet Impala Sport Sedan

Besides looks, ride and power—what's so special about it?

(it's so reasonably priced)

Kind of leaves the high-priced cars some explaining to do, wouldn't you say? Long and luxurious—with a clean fresh-christened look that almost makes you feel somebody should be breaking a champagne bottle on its prow. Richer roomy interiors with subtle new blendings of colors and fabrics. Like the ultra-soft vinyl upholstery in the new Impala Super Sport Series. And the foam-cushioned front and rear seats and door-to-door carpeting, now standard in all models including the modest-priced Biscaynes.

A choice of seven engines, no less, with output all the way up (say when!) to 425 hp.*

And a choice of three smoother working transmissions—from automatic* to 4-speed Synchro-Mesh*—to go with them. And underlying it all, the supple feel of Chevrolet's Jet-smooth ride—something some of the expensive makes would dearly love to claim for themselves.

Matter of fact, the most important and noticeable difference between this beautiful new 1964 Chevrolet and the high-priced cars is the price itself.

Let your Chevrolet dealer show you how much luxury that reasonable Chevrolet price now buys. *Optional at extra cost

Fewer Ships For NATO

OTTAWA (CP)—Canada's naval commitment of 54 combat ships to the North Atlantic alliance will likely be reduced, informed sources said Monday.

They added that the commitment might have been pared down even if the $452,000,000 program to build eight tri-purpose super-frigates had not been cancelled by the government Thursday.

NOT SACRED

Authorities have stressed in recent weeks—as official cancellation of the frigate program came nearer—that a Canadian commitment to NATO is not a sacred undertaking and that commitments to the alliance can be and are altered.

This view varies from the stated Liberal party policy on nuclear weapons: That the Conservatives had promised Canada's NATO partners that this country would accept nuclear warheads and that therefore the Liberals must carry out this commitment.

TARGET REACHED

The navy in 1959 undertook to build a fleet of 54 combat ships, 30 of which would be assigned to NATO's Supreme Allied Commander, Atlantic, and 24 to NATO's Canada-U.S. region. The navy in 1959 reached this target.

Officials said the commitment presumed a regular replacement program for aging ships so that new ships would come into the line as old ones were mothballed.

31 SHIPS MODERN

Informants said 31 of the navy's 54 combat ships—one aircraft carrier, 20 destroyers and 10 minesweepers—are modern enough so that their life-time will extend into the 1970s. But the 23 others would not last that long unless refitted at almost as much cost as their original price.

DURING WAR

These 23 comprise 17 frigates, all built during the Second World War and already rebuilt once, and six destroyers, two built during the war and four started during the war and finished in 1947. These six destroyers are the Algonquin, which actually served in the war, and the Crescent, Micmac, Nootka, Cayuga and Athabaskan.

SIX RETIRED

In the last year, the navy has retired six combat ships, including the Second World War destroyers Iroquois, Huron, Haida, Sioux and Crusader and the frigate Lauzon.

The present frigates are not regarded by the navy as first-line ships and they double as training vessels.

Priest Vows Fast Until Smut Fought

NEW YORK — A Roman Catholic priest has gone on a hunger strike to protest the sale of pornographic literature in this city. Rev. Morton Hill, a Jesuit, says he will continue his fast until a crackdown is ordered by Mayor Robert Wagner.

The Jesuit, who began his fast at 6 p.m. Friday and is subsisting only on water, accused Wagner of failing to follow through with a promised four-point program to eliminate pornographic sales.

COTONOU, Dahomey — Army chief Col. Christophe Kogbe of the West African nation of Dahomey used his 800-man force to seize power from Hubert Maga, the nation's first and only president.

BIRMINGHAM, England — Barbara Carpenter, 22, an English girl who reads no Italian, married Eda Sorelli, 25, an Italian who reads no English, after a two-year postal courtship involving 700 letters — every one read by translators.

LUTON, England — The bottled message Margaret King, 18, dropped in the North Sea in 1956 brought a reply from Jan Peereboom, 19, of Holland, who wrote he had no girl friend. She will write back — to say she's engaged to be married.

TOKYO — Red China's Foreign Minister Chen Yi was quoted as saying it will be "several years" before his country can test an atomic bomb.

DENVER — Mrs. Jeanine Goodfellow, 29, an Arvada, Colo., housewife, died 23 days after a liver was transplanted into her body in an effort to save her life.

KANLOOPS — B.C. Conservative leader Dave Fulton has rebuffed the "wild statement" of Liberal leader Ray Perrault asking Tories to vote Liberal and beat Premier Bennett in future elections. Mr. Fulton said dissenation in Mr. Perrault's party was partly to blame for the statement.

HOLLYWOOD — Actress Mamie Van Doren, who says she's neither Republican nor Democrat, has been hired to strip at six rallies in Washington State to raise money for the Republican party. Mamie, who'll keep on a nude-colored leotard, says the rallies have sold all of their 40,000 tickets.

MOSCOW — Premier Khrushchev called for a change in U.S. policy toward Cuba as an "indispensable condition" for a further relaxation in world tensions.

WASHINGTON — Former U.S. senator Tom Connally died of pneumonia. The Texas Democrat was 86.

HALIFAX — Two Soviet seamen who defected from a Russian tanker last July have been granted political asylum in Canada. Albinas Vibrys, 30, and George Vaitkevicius, 31, both Lithuanians, are starting their new life in Toronto.

PRINCE GEORGE — Judge C. W. Morrow said he wants written briefs before he opens formal hearings of the provincial gasoline price inquiry.

LONDON — Buckingham Palace said no 1964 travel plans or engagements would be made for Queen Elizabeth until after the birth of her baby early next year.

KING'S LYNN, England — A shop put on sale pheasants shot by Prince Philip on a nearby royal estate for 30 shillings a pair.

HOLLYWOOD — Oldtime actress Mae Clarke has opened a one-woman painting show in the unemployment insurance office "so I can see them every week." Jimmy Cagney pushed a grapefruit in her face in Public Enemy, starting a new trend in movie etiquette.

LONDON — Publisher Roy Thomson is to run the radio stations in a new broadcasting corporation set up by the government of Gibraltar.

LONDON — Former prime minister Harold Macmillan used a cane as he left hospital 17 days after his operation.

SAN FRANCISCO — America's UN ambassador, Adlai Stevenson, said he doesn't think the American people "are much interested" in the current visit of South Vietnamese Mme. Nhu.

TORONTO — Rev. Kenneth Ragsdale, youth editor of the United Church Observer, has advised teenagers to "cultivate the art of flirting" rather than go steady because flirting is "showing an interest in many people."

Anti-Discrimination Statement Approved

UNITED NATIONS (CP)—A sweeping declaration calling for the elimination of all forms of racial discrimination won approval Monday in the United Nations social humanitarian and cultural committee.

But several countries, including Canada, took issue with the wording in a particular section and abstained when the declaration came to a vote.

Eighty-nine nations voted for it while 16, including Canada, abstained. There were no opposing votes. Five nations—including South Africa, which has been under heavy attack in the UN for its racial separation policies—were absent.

FINAL APPROVAL

The declaration now goes to the General Assembly for final approval and the Canadian delegation said it hopes the wording.

Tighten Up UN Told

UNITED NATIONS (UPI)—Canada yesterday called for a tightening up of UN financial procedures to meet the growing responsibilities of the world organization. Canadian delegate T. D'Arcy Leonard told the General Assembly's budgetary committee that immediate improvement is needed in planning, organization and preparation of UN activities.

Woman Faces 222 Charges

EDMONTON (CP)—A former $60-a-week investment firm employee appeared in court Monday for preliminary hearing of 222 theft charges against her. The charges involve more than $89,000.

Mrs. Dorothy Dutton, former secretary-treasurer of D. M. Duggan Investments Ltd., heard a charge that she stole 225 Commonwealth International shares to a value exceeding $50 from a client of the firm.

Eric Duggan, president of the firm, filed an assignment in bankruptcy March 18 this year. Charges against Mrs. Dutton were laid following a special audit.

An official of a city bank said 225 Commonwealth shares had been pledged at the bank by Mrs. Dutton against a loan by the investment firm.

End of August

Canadian Debt Rate Goes Up

OTTAWA (CP)—Credit advanced to Canadians at the end of August was up substantially compared with the same date a year ago, the bureau of statistics said Monday.

This included balances outstanding on the books of sales finance companies for both consumer goods and commercial goods, small loan companies for cash loans and instalment credit, department stores, furniture and appliance stores and chartered banks for personal loans.

End-of-August figures: Sales finance companies for consumer goods $856,000,000, up 8.9 per cent from $786,000,000 a year previous; sales finance companies for commercial goods $459,000,000, up 7.2 per cent from $428,000,000; small loan companies for cash loans $705,000,000, up 15 per cent from $613,000,000; small loan companies for instalment credit $46,000,000, up 15 per cent from $40,000,000; department stores $381,000,000, up seven per cent from $356,000,000; furniture and appliance stores $186,000,000, up 1.1 per cent from $184,000,000; and chartered banks for personal loans $1,828,000,000, up 9.6 per cent from $1,666,000,000.

Anti-War Study Wins Favor

VANCOUVER (CP)—Dr. John Macdonald, president of the University of British Columbia, gave his support Monday to a proposed joint Canada-United States study group that would examine war prevention methods.

"Anything that helps prevent war is an excellent project nowadays," Dr. Macdonald said of the proposal made Saturday by Dr. E. J. Keyston, vice-chairman of the Defence Research Board.

SEES PROBLEMS

History Professor Frank Soward, director of the university's international studies department, also gave his support to the idea but saw money and administration problems.

He said such an agency would have to be set up under the auspices of the two federal governments.

TORONTO — Several Jewish organizations still are trying to track down leading Nazi war criminals, says Israeli Justice Minister Dov Joseph, 67. The visiting native of Canada indicated Israeli government departments might be involved.

Shun Doom Prophets

VATICAN CITY (AP)—Pope John, who first summoned the assembly, were evoked in the council hall in St. Peter's Basilica as the more than 2,000 prelates marked the day five years ago when the late Pope was elected.

The words and memory of Pope John, who first summoned the assembly, were evoked in the council hall in St. Peter's Basilica as the more than 2,000 prelates marked the day five years ago when the late Pope was elected.

Pope Paul VI, his successor, celebrated a special memorial mass in a rare appearance in the council hall.

Then Leo Jozef Cardinal Suenens of Belgium, a close associate of John and now a critical point in their debates, of Paul, spoke to the council. The council fathers did not have a working session Monday, but Cardinal Suenens provided them with considerable food for thought in his eulogy of Pope John, who died June 3.

As Pope Paul looked on from his throne, Cardinal Suenens reminded the assembled cardinals, archbishops, patriarchs and bishops of John's speech opening the council Oct. 11, 1962.

There had been some opposition to the council from conservative elements within the church and Cardinal Suenens recalled that Pope John at the opening session "made a calm declaration of his complete disagreement with those prophets of doom who are always forecasting disaster."

Doukhobor Film Starting Today

CALGARY (CP)—Production of Naked Flame, a Hollywood-style version of the Sons of Freedom Doukhobor story, starts in the mountain town of Canmore, Alta., today. Edmonton producer-director Larry Matanski says his feature-length film is not meant to explain the Doukhobor problem.

Edmonton Probe Ordered

EDMONTON (CP)—A full investigation of Edmonton's Oct. 16 civic election was authorized Monday by Chief Justice Nelles V. Buchanan of district court. He granted the authority following an application by the Civic Government Association for permission to proceed with an investigation under the converted Municipal Elections Act.

Robert Matheson, a lawyer acting for the CGA, said the investigation would start immediately and would take about two weeks to complete.

Respondent in the application is Ald. Edmund Leger, who won the last of six seats on city council with a 202-vote margin over CGA candidate Murray Hamilton. Mr. Hamilton is named as the applicant.

WINNIPEG (CP)—Plans are being worked on at a Canadian Centenary Council symposium here for a temporary exchange of some eastern and western Canadians in 1967.

Mr. Matheson said the investigation would involve all election documents.

William Hawrelak was elected mayor following one of the bitterest campaigns in Edmonton's history. He resigned from the same office in 1959 after a judicial investigation accused him of "gross misconduct."

East-West People Trade Planned for Understanding that it would, for example, be to let the Maritimer know something of the problems of the western farmer. "Our plan is to change the travel patterns of Canadians," Mr. Clarke said.

Alan M. Clarke of Ottawa, a member of the board of directors of the centenary committee, said Monday the exchange would include high school students, civil servants, university students, teachers, representatives of cultural groups and people from industry.

He said that funds for the exchanges would come from the people taking part in the scheme, the federal government, provincial governments and industry. Mr. Clarke said the purpose of the exchanges would be to create greater understanding among Canadians. He said

Fireworks Burn Two Boys

'I Guess I'm Lucky'

By ALAN CAMPBELL

A boy lay — almost afraid to move — in St. Joseph's Hospital last night and offered this advice to youngsters playing with firecrackers: "Find something else to play with."

In Royal Jubilee Hospital, another boy is recovering from similar injuries. His mother says she wishes she had "never heard of fireworks."

Both boys are 11, just two of six children who suffered painful burns over the weekend as a result of the improper handling of fireworks.

None of the injuries resulted from deliberate hoodlums, but police have received numerous reports of vandalism involving the fireworks—and they plan a crackdown. Jimmy Caldwell, 426 Montreal, was playing with several

Welfare Service Here

Streamlining Ahead?

The plight of a Victoria family left homeless in a fire Friday may have provided the impetus for a streamlining of emergency welfare service in the city.

Derek and Ruth Clark, 702 Blenheim, and their five children were left destitute when their home was swept by fire. They were taken in by a neighbor, Ernest Picton, 749 Mc Lure.

REPORTS IMPLIED

Reports Saturday implied United Appeal agencies such as the St. Vincent de Paul Society, Victoria Order of Nurses and Family and Children's Service had contacted the family almost immediately and offered assistance.

One story said the family had been "adopted" by the St. Vincent de Paul Society.

This was not the case. The St. Vincent de Paul group did contact the family and offered assistance if needed.

ONLY OTHER

By Saturday night, the only other organization to contact the family was the Red Cross — not a United Appeal agency.

Community Chest president Dr. Peter Banks was quoted Saturday as saying: "This is the United Appeal in swift action."

Work Drive Near

The Greater Victoria winter employment campaign committee of 30 area businessmen will meet today to begin organizing for the coming season.

Chairman again is E. E. Chamberlin, manager of the Canadian Imperial Bank of Commerce and Yuba. About 40 per cent of the membership is new this year.

Mr. Chamberlin said that, while the amount of winter work has increased steadily since the campaign began, it would be a mistake to relax just because Victoria is having a good employment year.

Representatives of more than 2,000 Victoria shipyard workers have urged the federal government to institute a crash program of construction to replace scrapped frigate plans.

In a telegram to Prime Minister Pearson, representatives of the Victoria Metal Trades Council said if such action was not forthcoming, Victoria will become a depressed area.

The telegram, sent by Jim McConachy, business manager for the Boilermakers' Union, said cancellation of the program has eliminated hopes of stability in the ship building industry.

The wire said the shipyard's payroll was holding up the economy in the area and urged "immediate assistance."

Residents To Band Together

Residents of the Lansdowne Park area will meet this evening at the home of Cmdr. R. C. Thurber to form a ratepayers' association to consolidate their protest against commercial development in the university area.

The residents are opposing construction of a gas station at the corner of Cedar Hill Cross Road and Henderson near the new campus.

They feel that the area should remain reserved for single family dwellings and that commercial buildings would spoil the area.

University students, despite the fact that the new station would bring automotive service nearer to the university, aren't unanimous in their desire for a gas station. Some are opposed to it.

MOST AGAINST

But most of them are against extensive commercial development which, they feel, would detract from the natural beauty of the district.

Larry Devlin, president of the University students' council, said following a joint meeting of the council and administration, yesterday, that as far as the gas station is concerned no action would be taken.

"We take the same stand as other bodies here. Neither the board of governors nor the development board has taken action against the station," he stated.

The Greater Victoria United Appeal total yesterday reached $218,750 — 54.5 per cent of the 1963 goal of $400,000.

A total of $6,400 was collected yesterday, about half of that in the residential canvass. Appeal officials will meet this week to decide how far to extend the campaign in an attempt to reach the goal. Original deadline for the appeal was Nov. 1.

It's Up to Parents

'Greater Responsibility' in Film Issue

Parents have a greater responsibility than theatre managers in seeing that children do not attend unsuitable films.

Mrs. R. B. Restall, president of the Parent Teacher Council, said last night.

Last week the PTA council heard complaints that theatre managers were allowing children to see black cat or restricted films.

Theatre managers refuted the charges and said they were very careful about observing the provincial laws in this matter.

Mrs. Restall said she didn't agree and that she knew of a case of a 16-year-old girl being unchallenged as she entered a theatre where a restricted film was showing.

"But" Mrs. Restall added, "it's pretty hard these days to tell whether a girl is 16 or 18."

The PTA council wants parents to realize their responsibility.

Children grow up fast enough these days without seeing restricted or adult films, Mrs. Restall declared.

Mrs. Lillian Money, who reported last week to the PTA council on her discussions with the B.C. movie censor on children's admission to restricted films, declined to comment on the possibility of the McKendzie Avenue PTA, of which she is president, preparing a resolution for presentation to the PTA convention.

O'Grady Was Right

Sunday Movie Vote Not Possible Here

By TERRY HAMMOND

City solicitor T. P. O'Grady yesterday won a vote of confidence from the municipal affairs department on the subject of Sunday movie plebiscites. Last week he advised city council it didn't have the right to launch such a plebiscite unless the Municipal Act is amended.

Attorney General Bonner clouded the issue when he said that if Victorians wanted Sunday movies they should indicate their desire by means of a plebiscite.

But supervisor of municipal affairs J. D. Baird said yesterday they can't do it.

Vancouver could do it because they had a special charter, he said.

UNDER THE ACT

Victoria can't, as Mr. O'Grady had indicated, because it comes under the Municipal Act.

The Act gives councils the right to hold plebiscites only on such subjects as they are empowered to deal with. Sunday movies isn't one of them.

But amendments to the Municipal Act may come at the next session of the legislature. The Union of B.C. Municipalities earlier this year passed a unanimous resolution urging the government to give municipal councils the right to hold such plebiscites.

SYMPATHETIC

The government is expected to give the resolution sympathetic consideration.

But unless another section of the act is amended the plebiscite could not take place until December, 1964.

The act at present says plebiscites can only be held at the time of the annual elections.

Dear Ann: I am a middle-aged bachelor. Several months ago I began to keep steady company with a widow. She loves cats and has two—a silver tabby and a rather fluffy one.

I never cared for cats and I sew on a button or mend a hem. I get so tired of nagging her to do the supper dishes that I often do them myself. Lucille constantly reminds me that I promised she could date at 14 and now I must keep my word. Please help me do the right thing.—FRANTIC.

Dear Frantic: You've already made one bad mistake. Don't make another now. Tell Lucille you expected her to be ready to date at 14, but she is not ready and therefore you can't allow it. Explain that privileges entail responsibilities.

When she behaves in an adult and responsible manner, she will be accorded adult privileges. Outline in detail what you expect of her—from A to Z. Tell her you will be watching for improvement. And give her every break.

Dear Ann: I wonder if people who are forever borrowing realize how much bother they are? I suppose an easy way to get rid of such pests is to say you don't have it. This is fine for flour and milk and butter and eggs, but what about a vacuum sweeper, a steam iron and a floor polisher which they know you do have—because they've borrowed these items before?

These people can afford the necessities. The problem is, how do I say no without alienating them? Perhaps if I were a borrower myself I would be more sympathetic, but my husband taught me a long time ago that a borrower is a poor manager. Can you suggest a tactful out? —BORROWED OUT.

Dear Out: Some people aren't irritated by borrowers, possibly to phone me when she plans to go somewhere after school. She often "forgets" to call and I worry myself sick until she walks in at 6:30 and says she went to the library. Her room is like a pig sty. She must be told 10 times to

Dear Ann Landers: Two years ago when our daughter Lucille was 12 years old she began to nag me about being allowed to date. I told her she could date at 14. To be honest with you, Lucille was a sensible, mature 12-year-old and I felt certain that two more years would see her a grown-up young lady.

Well, she will be 14 in three weeks and I realize I made a mistake. The girl is immature, undependable and untrustworthy. I've asked her recently to phone me when she plans to go somewhere after school. She often "forgets" to call and I worry myself sick until she walks in at 6:30 and says she went to the library. Her room is like a pig sty. She must be told 10 times to

Smithers Girl Marries Here

Centennial United Church was the setting recently for a double wedding ceremony uniting in marriage Verna Beatrice Langan, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. S. Langan of Smithers, and Mr. Thomas Alfred Collett of Victoria.

The bride, who was given in marriage by Mr. Gil Oliver, chose a white floor-length gown of organza over tulle, styled with bouffant skirt and fitted bodice. Her chapel length veil was held in place by a single satin rose. White and gold chrysanthemums were in her crescent bouquet.

Miss Diana Munroe, maid of honor, who was the bride's only attendant, wore a peacock-blue gown of satin in belted skirt style and carried bronze and gold chrysanthemums.

Mr. David Collett was his brother's best man. Mr. Paul Collett, groom's brother, and Mr. Edward Conway were ushers.

A tiny vase of yellow roses topped the wedding cake for the reception at Oddfellows Hall. The bride's going-away costume was a gold colored wool dress with brown accessories. A bronze chrysanthemum corsage completed her ensemble. The new Mr. and Mrs. Collett will reside at 4202 Cedarvale Road.

Conveners Appointed

Plans for the presentation of Mr. James McVie's World of Color program scheduled for Nov. 1, were discussed by the Victoria Chapter of Royal Conservatory of Music Alumni. President, Mrs. Thomas Brandon, president, was in the chair at the meeting held at the home Mr. and Mrs. S. E. Bulman-Fleming.

Mrs. C. H. Denike and Mrs. D. H. Kirkendall were appointed conveners of special program. Following the business meeting, Miss Noel Smith, gave an entertaining account of her travels in Europe last summer.

Mrs. A. B. Campbell and Mrs. J. A. Lavertu were luncheon conveners for the evening.

Newlyweds To Reside In Calgary

SOOKE—Baskets of chrysanthemums decorated Knox Presbyterian Church here for the recent marriage of Patricia Anne Lowe and Mr. Larry Clifford Gilbert, Calgary. Rev. A. M. Beaton officiated at the evening ceremony.

Parents of the principals are Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Lowe, Grant Road, and Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Gilbert, Blairmore, Alta. Mrs. F. Acreman, church organist, played the wedding music.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a smartly-styled suit in winter white with pink accessories. She carried a small cascade bouquet of feathered bronze chrysanthemums. Miss Joan Perry, the bride's only attendant, chose a red suit and black accessories. Bronze chrysanthemums were also in her bouquet.

Mr. Roy Lowe of Duncan, bride's uncle, was best man. Mr. Lawrence Lowe, the bride's cousin, ushered.

Mr. William Martin, Victoria, proposed the toast to the bride at a family reception held at Sooke Coffee Shop. The new Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert will make their home in Calgary where they had both been residing prior to their marriage.

Variety Singers Busy

Capital City Variety Singers whose director and accompanist is Mrs. Celia Fairhead, are in the midst of a season of busy entertaining.

So far since the beginning of the month they have played the Veterans' Hospital twice, the League of Women and the Silver Threads club. On Nov. 6 they will entertain the CNIB; Nov. 12, Mason Lodge and Nov. 20, Rose Manor.

This group of 16 mixed voices whose ages are from 60 and up, present a variety programme from the semi-classical ballads, humorous songs, recitations, skits, chorus renditions of old favorite songs. Most of the songs, solos and others, are old favorites that were popular during their younger days.

This group enjoys what they are doing in bringing a small measure of pleasure to persons in above mentioned societies and groups, and their services are free.

Any groups similar as mentioned can receive further information by phoning GR 9-3645.

Baking Sale

Women of First United Church will hold their bazaar and giant bake sale on Saturday, Nov. 2, in the Fellowship Hall.

Mrs. Robert J. D. Morris will open the event at 1:30 p.m. Afternoon tea will also be served.

Making final arrangements for St. Aidan's United Church bazaar to be held Saturday, Nov. 2, are co-conveners, Mrs. K. W. Brown, pictured at left, and Mrs. N. A. McDiarmid, right. The bazaar will be opened at 11 a.m. by Mrs. MacLeod, centre, wife of Rev. A. G. MacLeod, minister of St. Aidan's. Pouring tea will be the wives of former Ministers.—(Bud Kinsman)

HOW TO Decorate

If your tastes run to the quiet and restful, then consider a subtle monochromatic, or one-color, scheme for your room. This quiet study corner makes use of restful blue to accent the warm wood tones in the furniture. One blue is used throughout, but to avoid monotony, it has been varied in lightness and darkness, and in texture and brilliance of fabric. Pale tones are on the walls, bolder blues in the carpet, draperies and upholstery. White is the fresh accent to let the blues take the spotlight and set the mood.

Booted and Suited At Gallery Show

By EILEEN LEAROLD

Boots mid-calf and high-heeled, suits in bulky tweeds and sleek, shiny, slinky satins from the Orient were some of the "Portraits in Fashion" shown yesterday by the WA to the Victoria Art Gallery.

Models were suited by W. and J. Wilsons, and booted by Ingledews. Hairstyles were by the House of Glamour.

The winter fashion story told was again the tale of the suit, but this year its not-so-classic, appearing in a variety of jacket lengths and fabrics both smooth and "bumpy."

COLOR BLEND

The "bumpy" or bulky tweeds again have a new theme this year, blending as they do, more and more color combinations.

More and more of the lovely Italian knits were shown, all elegant, slim and important. There were many gorgeous imports, from Swedish ski sweaters, Austrian knits, Scottish wools to Belgian fabrics beautifully hand crafted, and sequined cardigans from Hong Kong.

Helen Blanes commented the fast-moving parade of mannequins.

SHOW MIT

Undoubted hit of the show was a Hong Kong Dynasty silk formal gown, modelled by Jane Jermaine.

Cool-looking, slender, with a mother-of-pearl shimmer, the arrow-like skirt was slit at one side and the embossed jacket came to a full stop at the waist. Subtle padding at the three-quarter sleeve made the cut stand away. With broad rumps and topaz jewelry, the model was stunning.

Hong Kong also provided the sparkling cardigans jeweled in collar, and bordered all around with a small frill, the jacket came off to reveal an after-five black lamb's wool blouse, striking for its bare look with only the tiniest shoulder straps.

New look, was apparent in the "at home" skirts. One, a plaid, floor-length wool was fashioned along slim lines and worn with a natural Irish linen shirt. Another was a softest wool, spilled over with roses, and worn with a sleeveless, bulky-knit sweater.

ANTELOPE SKIN

Attention-getter was a bulky mohair jacket, worn over a dress made from pure antelope skin designed with dropped waist. Boots, knee-high and with a scalloped edge completed the picture.

Mrs. J. Miller and Mrs. B. Parker were co-conveners of the affair, presented twice yesterday. Pat Hummel and Maria Anderson received guests at the door.

Dressers were Becky Thomas, Grace Bryson, Virginia Gareau and Ivy Smith.

Ushers were Jackie Meredith, Evelyn Miller, Betty Henry, Helen Willis, Shirley Sheret and Phyllis Preston.

Refreshments were looked after by Eve Wenman.

MODELS

Models were Miss Francis Wainwright, Mrs. H. Evans, Mrs. G. Harris, Mrs. E. L. Jones, Mrs. R. L. V. Jermaine, Mrs. I. W. Bayliss, Mrs. J. Miller, Mrs. C. Lum and Miss Jennifer Conn.

Only man at the affair was Mr. Colin Graham, gallery curator. He drew two raffle tickets.

ARBUTUS MOUTS

The Second Arbutus Scout and Cub Pack of Esquimalt will hold a bake sale in the Super-Valu Store, Head and Esquimalt Roads on Friday, Nov. 1 from 6 to 9 p.m., and on Sat. Nov. 2 from 9 a.m. to sell-out time.

FRESH GREEN

The suits, as we said, came in every kind of style and texture. One (very much like picture shown) came with a wrap around, detachable stole in fresh green and white tweed. The jacket was lined in emerald green, matching the overblouse. The model was booted to the knee.

Another suit in cranberry red, called a "walker," had a long, long jacket with a new, lower collar line. The overblouse was a mass of poppies and green leaves.

One of the prettiest shown was an import from Vienna, dramatizing the European flair for the unusual.

Improve Image

TORONTO (CP) — The women's Progressive Conservative Association of Canada Tuesday was handed the job of improving the party's image.

Mrs. Harrison Smith of Kelowna, B.C., the association's national president, told the Toronto group she will carry the same message to 25,000 members in 275 associations in Canada.

"The party must be cleared of four false charges," she said.

"We need a bright image of our aims and attitudes," Mrs. Smith listed the charges and denied them:

1. A party of hard times. "A deliberate falsehood."
2. A party with no aims of its own. "An obvious bid to create confusion in the minds of the people."
3. A party of high tariff. The present government is proving the untruth of that statement."
4. A party with anti-United States leanings. "A Liberal attempt to discredit while continuing along the strongest anti-American line ever taken by a Canadian government."

Weavers Aid Local Centre

The Victoria Hand Weavers' Guild held its October meeting recently in the Art Gallery, with Mrs. G. Singleton presiding. Mrs. S. Pickles reported that some of the members were helping at the newly-opened handicapped crafts centre on Esquimalt Road. Members also help with weaving at other centres for handicapped people such as cerebral palsy and muscular dystrophy patients.

Several members brought to the meeting articles made from thrums—the odds and ends of thread left over after a woven article is finished. The colorful and useful items included scarf, small bag, egg cozies, pot holder, pin cushion doll, slippers, Christmas decorations.

The doll made by Mrs. K. Porter was judged best by popular vote.

Meeting closed with an auction of threads, conducted by Mrs. Porter and Miss I. Worthington. Proceeds will be used for buying equipment for the weaving room on Government Street.

Miners Rescued

JOHANNESBURG, South Africa (Reuters) — Sixty-three miners emerged unharmed Monday after spending more than 12 hours deep in one of the world's richest gold mines.

The men had been imprisoned in two elevator cages.

Earlier reports put the total number of trapped miners at 75 in two groups of 20 and 55. But a mine spokesman said Monday night there were only 13 and 50 in the two cages.

The spokesman said the group of 50 was originally trapped 1,000 feet down but had managed to reach safety in a cable pocket cut into the shaft until rescue was effected.

The group of 13 was 5,000 feet down.

ONLY FATALITY

The only fatality in what had threatened to be a major disaster was a white driver of hoist gear at the surface. He died of injuries received from the backlash of four 160-ton elevator cables severed by a runaway ore-loaded carrier.

Another driver of gear controlling the mine cages slammed on the emergency brakes when he heard the cables snap in the adjoining shaft. This stopped the two cages.

The accident took place in the No. 2 shaft of the Western Deep Level Gold mine 50 miles west of here.

The mine, in the Carletonville area of the western Transvaal, is one of the deepest in the world and began production in March, 1962.

Anglo-American Corporation owns the mine.

Guns with Histories

Former owner of this 1851 navy percussion Colt, Albert Cassenti, shot and killed a man in the Yukon Territory and was convicted of murder by Judge Irving, present owner P. G. Holmes of 3191 Admirals Road tells Lee Hunt, 15, of 1246 Bay Street.

The 17th century Italian flintlock, held by the young lady, is one of the two oldest guns in the Vancouver Island Arms Collectors Association's display, held Sunday. Both guns are owned by Mr. Holmes. — (W. A. Boucher)

Firearms Display Tops in Canada

Display of firearms by Vancouver Island Arms Collectors Association, held here Sunday, was as good if not better, than any in Canada, visitors from Vancouver said.

Hugh Lyle, president of the two-year-old club, said the display was "beyond our expectations."

The 200 visitors saw 800 firearms and related items, such as swords, powder flasks and bayonets, from the early 16th century to the present day.

MOST BRITISH

Most of the firearms were British or American. There were some Canadian arms manufacturers but the weapons are found mainly in the East.

Most members are from Victoria but there are a few from Nanaimo and Courtenay. Their collections include Lugers, Smith and Wessons and one cartridge collection.

B.C. Must Buy British To Sell There—Bonner

LONDON (CP)—Robert Bonner, head of British Columbia's 22-man timber mission to Britain, says his government is "conscious of the need for the United Kingdom to sell more in B.C. if our efforts here are to succeed."

Bonner, attorney-general and minister of industrial development, arrived during the week-end to promote the drive to sell more timber for home construction.

He told a press conference Monday that his province offers a greater market for British exports than, for instance, New Zealand. Temporary import restrictions necessary to protect the Canadian dollar had been lifted and it now was necessary for British exporters to launch a "renewed sales effort" to regain their position in the Canadian market.

Last year B.C. exported $128,000,000 worth of goods to Britain and imported only $52,000,000 worth.

Stars Foretell for Teen-Agers

By EDDY GILMORE
LONDON (AP)—Brash British teen-agers have started wearing stars—a new system of advertising just how far they'll go in their sex life.

A one-star girl or boy won't even neck. A five-star wearer stops at nothing.

Star-wearing broke out two weeks ago at the big railway engineering town of Swindon. It's reported to be spreading.

Said three-star Jane Phillips, 19:

"It's a good idea. Boys who wear three stars like I do seem to get on well with me. I don't feel let down when I date a three-star boy."

Commented four-star Graham Tanner, 20:

"I don't date girls with more or less stars than I have. Court-ing is now a real pleasure. Both the girl I date and I know exactly where we stand. You don't hurt anybody's feelings this way."

A social worker who spends much time with young people—and who asked not to be identified by name—said:

"They're wearing these stars all right. But I've found nobody yet modest enough to wear one star, or promiscuous enough to wear five."

The teen-agers even composed a verse to explain the system:

One star—must ask ma.
Two star—ah, ah, ah.
Three star—ha, ha, ha.
Four star—not too far.
Five star—stop the car.

A commentator in London's Daily Sketch wrote:

"Their self-imposed star system may sound crude, but is it not exactly what most parents demand of their children when they ask them questions?"

Four Minesweepers To Visit Kitimat

INSTALL
NOW

Four minesweepers of the Pacific Command, Second Canadian Minesweeping Squadron, will visit Kitimat Nov. 5 to 8 at the invitation of the Kitimat Canadian Legion.

The minesweepers Fortune, Miramichi, Cowichan and James Bay will leave Esquimalt Nov. 1. They will make brief stops at several ports along the coast and reach Kitimat Nov. 5.

Arrangements for several functions for personnel of the minesweepers while at the northern B.C. port are being made by the Kitimat branch of the Canadian Legion.

Later, the ships will proceed to the Prince Rupert area to join in exercises with five U.S. Navy minesweepers. The Canadian ships will leave Prince Rupert Nov. 20 and proceed to Vancouver, arriving there Nov. 25 for a one-day stay, then return to Esquimalt Nov. 27.

Enthusiasm Needed

World Law Course Planned

Hope for keen public interest in the Planning for World Law course, planned for Nov. 14 in the night school program is expressed by World Federalist Prof. C. S. Burchill.

The course, which ends Feb. 6, is one of many being held in cities across Canada. It was planned at the instigation of the World Federalists and the United Nations Association.

NUMBER YEARS

Prof. Burchill said he thought the course could attract a good deal of attention, particularly among the United Nations Association members who have not held discussion meetings for a number of years.

There are 130 members of the World Federalist group here and rather less in the U.N. group.

Instructor is former Calgary and CBC radio personality, Ian Arrol, who now teaches here.

QUESTIONS POSED

Questions posed by the course involve government's support of peace although peace does not exist; possibility of peace and prosperity; independence and security of nations.

TEXT BOOKS

Text books to be used include Peace; The Control of National Power by Philip Van Slyke; World Peace Through World Law, by Clark and Sohn; World Law and the Middle Powers with Special Reference to Canada by Prof. Burchill.

Women Shriek At Christine

LONDON (AP) — Reinforced police held back a crowd of screaming, booing women who tried to assault red-haired playgirl Christine Keeler Monday as she left the court where she is facing charges of perjury and conspiracy to subvert justice.

Police forced a path through the howling crowd for Christine and her two women co-defendants so they could flee in their chauffeur-driven car.

More police were called out for today to prevent new disorders when the preliminary hearing continues on police charges that the defendants gave false testimony and hid vital facts in the trial of Christine's former lover, Jamaican jazz singer Aloysius (Lucky) Gordon.

Gordon was jailed on Christine's charges that he beat her up in her London flat last April. His conviction was later reversed by an appeals court and Scotland Yard then arrested Christine and three others on suspicion that they participated in a frameup.

APPEARS CALM

Christine, whose affair with former war minister John D. Profumo nearly brought down the British government, sat calmly in court Monday as witnesses told a tangled story of alleged bribe offers, blackmail attempts and huge sums offered for "the true story" and inside stories.

The chief witness was Paul Mann, a young racing-driver friend of Christine who was called back from a vacation in Spain to testify. He told of handling some of her business affairs and said a newspaper offered £2,800 ($8,000) for a single photo of Christine with another person.

Earlier witnesses swore that Christine offered bribes for testimony to convict Gordon and "get him off my back" by sending him to prison.

BISMARCK, N.D. (UPI) — North Dakota Gov. William Guy and the State Economic Development Commission head for Winnipeg this week to lure Canadian industry into the state.

'Pirate' Report Seized

PARIS (Reuters) — A Paris judge has ordered the seizure of a "pirate" edition in French of the British Denning report on the Profumo scandal.

Judge Rene Drouillet granted Saturday a seizure request made on behalf of the British government's stationery office against the Paris publishing firm Les Yeux Ouverts (Open Eyes), which recently started circulating a French summary of the Denning report.

Eugene Sev of the stationery office said that rights for the publication of the report in France were awarded to another publishing firm, Editions Buchet-Chastel.

The report investigated security and other aspects of the resignation in Britain during the summer of war minister John Profumo.

Wife-Murder Charge Read Out to Lawyer

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn. (UPI) — Sombre and nervous in his unaccustomed role of the accused, criminal lawyer T. Eugene Thompson listened intently yesterday as lawyers began picking the jurors who will decide whether he is guilty of murder in the beating-slashing death of his pretty heiress wife.

The slight, tow-headed defendant crossed his legs when district court judge Rolf Fosen read the indictment charge "did kill and murder Carol Thompson."

Thompson, a rising criminal lawyer before the slaying of his 34-year-old wife last March 6, is charged with master-minding a three-man conspiracy to murder the mother of his four children. The lawyer, who has pleaded innocent, was the beneficiary of $1,061,000 insurance on his wife.

Life imprisonment is the maximum penalty for first degree murder conviction in Minnesota. The state had its last execution in 1906.

Others accused are Dick W. C. Anderson, 36, a hard-drinking Minneapolis salesman who has confessed he performed the actual killing in the up down—330 times a minute

Up and down is kinder to your clothes. Safer. Instead of dragging clothes through the water, the Frigidaire agitator pumps sudsy water through the clothes. Keeps clothes entirely underwater too. Always circulating. Never letting them ride up.

And it works. Give even the heaviest, dirtiest denims 6600 ups and downs and they come thoroughly clean. But that's easy. The real test is with your dainty things. They don't take kindly to backs and forths. But they come clean gently with ups and downs. No drag. Anything you can put in water can be washed in the Frigidaire up-down Washer.

More facts: You can use liquid or powder washing aids. You can spin water out fast when washing's done, leaving clothes barely damp and saving drying time. Still more facts? See your Frigidaire Washer-dealer. See his matching dryers, too.

Victoria Symphony

Two Centuries Combine For Excellent Concert

By BERT BINNY

Music of the 19th century and a young performer of the 20th century combined Sunday to make an excellent concert by the Victoria Symphony Orchestra and conductor Otto Armin.

He was recalled repeatedly and offered an encore one movement from a Bach work for unaccompanied violin.

For his selections Mr. Armin played the first movement of Paganini's D major concerto and Ernest Chausson's Poeme.

Mr. Armin displays enormous virtuosity. The Paganini concerto almost overflows with opportunity for its display and the only question about Mr. Armin's dazzling performance was whether technical virtuosity overcame actual music.

Whether we were treated to a magnificent exhibition of means without quite attaining the end.

The program opened with an orchestral performance of Moussorgsky's Prelude to Khovanshchina.

The third pair of concerts take place Nov. 10 and 12 in Victoria and Nov. 11 in Sidney.

Geoffrey Hobday will be the guest conductor and the highlight is to be Saint-Saens' Carnival of the Animals with du-pianists Morisset and Bouchard and narrator Sebastian Cabot.

to indulge in extended rounds of applause.

Here the compliment was deservedly paid to guest artist, 20-year-old violinist Otto Armin.

He was recalled repeatedly and offered an encore one movement from a Bach work for unaccompanied violin.

HORACE MAYEA

A Den of Ingenuity

Junior Nightclub Open in Victoria

By TED GASKELL

A downtown hall has given Victoria's young people their own special "dry" nightclub. The Den, in the lower Esplanade on View Street, is more than a coffee house, although nothing more invigorating is sold or drunk there.

DANCE FLOOR
Open each Friday, it can be called a junior nightclub, according to manager Horace Mayea, because it has a dance floor. However, many customers are content to sip coffee as they sit and talk and tap their feet or fingers to the rhythmic beat of the Flamingoes.

Mr. Mayea, a fourth-year arts student who runs the club with five adult partners, plays guitar, trombone and violin which he taught six years ago when he was only 16. But he doesn't plan to play at his club. He'll leave the music and entertaining to others, at present the Flamingoes and later, if the club is successful and he is able to open Saturdays, perhaps another combo.

He's hiring entertainers like folk singer Bob Chamberland, who appeared Friday, but he hopes soon that he can set aside a period for his patrons to try their hand at performing.

A number of entertainers from Victoria and Vancouver have shown interest in appearing and there's a possibility poetry readings to a jazz background might be included soon.

There's no age restriction but Mr. Mayea expects that the type of entertainment and the hours, 8:30 p.m. to 12:30 a.m., will keep the very young away.

Players Prepare For The Birds

By JUDITH BAINES

With one month to go before the opening night of The Birds, the theatre hut at the University of Victoria is a scene of furious activity.

The 125 people directly involved in the Players' Club production of Aristophanes' play are beginning to see their efforts come to fruition.

RISERS PAINTED
In the theatre, the 12-foot turntable which is to form part of the open stage is under construction. Risers for the 120 seats are in place and have been painted. Lights will arrive in about a week.

The papier-mache masks worn by all 40 members of the cast, caricatures of prominent people, are ready to be painted. Brilliant blue and vermilion wings worn by some of the characters are ready.

SORRY SIGN
The voluminous list of props, including such items as a "Sorry for the inconvenience" sign, is being filled.

As rehearsals progress, characters are beginning to emerge, and the scenes involving chorale-like responses are smoothing out.

BY LAMBERTSON
One of the most interesting aspects of the productions is the original musical score composed by Dr. C. L. Lambertson. Containing many songs and musical accompaniments, the play is almost a musical.

Topical songs satirize everything from Oak Bay to the Pro-fumo scandal. Director Carl Hare says the lyrics of the satirical numbers must be brought up to date every few weeks.

There are lyric elements as well as musical parodies and jazz numbers.

The music is being orchestrated and will be recorded by a 16-piece orchestra and a jazz combo.

Tickets go on sale Monday at the Student Union building, the Ewing Building on the Lansdowne campus and Eaton's. Prices are $1.35 for adults and $1 for students.

Young Artists Here Tonight

The talents of two young musicians and 14 composers are combined to produce the 21st recital in the Young Artists series at the Art Gallery this evening.

Sponsored by the Music Teachers' Association, Victoria branch, the program starts at 8:15 p.m. Pianist Denise Turney, 17, and contralto Donna Small play and sing music by Liszt, Chopin, Brahms, Schubert, Beethoven, Bach, Handel, Verdi, Ravel, Debussy and others.

Accompanist will be Mrs. Gordon Goghlin.

and twenty-nine trees!

No one has ever tried to "modernize" the Old Style label or the distinctive flavor of the beer inside.
Call it old fashioned if you like. Old Style is still made by men who take plenty of time to brew and age our beer in the traditional way.

"FOREST" CEDAR SIDING
A new cedar specialty for Beauty Long Life Economy

What is "FOREST" Siding?
A new and attractive type of siding that comes from specially selected cedar logs sawn to bring out the distinctive character of knots, burls and grain.

How Does "FOREST" compare with other siding?
It has more thickness, greater wood volume to add structural strength to any building. Its snug fitting makes good insulation and its low cost makes it ideal for modest budget home builders or remodelers.

How to finish "FOREST"
"Forest" has a distinctive horizontal shadow line that will enhance the beauty of your home.

If you wish to preserve the natural rustic effect of "Forest" apply a coat of oil filler first, then varnish or shellac. "Forest" siding also takes paint beautifully if you wish a colored finish.

YOU can easily apply "FOREST" Cedar Siding

Many home owners have applied this modern, beautiful "Forest" siding themselves without the slightest difficulty.

'Food Fair' Aims
At U.K. Market

By ROD CURRIE

LONDON (CP)—A group of Canadian food producers have turned a London hotel salon into a pint-sized supermarket and it's enough to make the average British housewife think she's in Wonderland.

The Canadian Food Fair is the first step in a campaign to launch the products of 17 leading Canadian manufacturers in the British market.

Items to puzzle the English man when they appear on the grocery shelves include Manitoba wild rice, ready-to-use pie fillings in eight flavors, tinned peas, pea dough and coconut cream pies and complete kits for making spaghetti and meat sauce.

But perhaps the most puzzling of all will be the time of yellow wax beans, a vegetable unknown in Britain.

REANS FACE FIGHT

Another bean drawing lots of attention—the humble jelly bean—also is a stranger to these parts. But it will be up against stiff competition in Britain's famed "sweet shops," stocked with a seemingly endless variety of delicious and inexpensive candy.

Two old English favorites, transported to Canada years ago, return with a new world look—the honored steak-and-kidney pie, frozen and ready for the oven, and Chelsea buns, also frozen and hardly recognizable in their glamorous cellophane wrap.

SOME ESTABLISHED

A number of Canadian products, notably apple juice and other tinned goods, honey and a large range of pickles and other condiments, already are established on the British market.

But it's an uphill grind all the way. British housewives being notoriously loyal to old, familiar brands.

"The average British housewife works on a slimmer budget than does the Canadian shopper," said a spokesman for Canadian Food Brokers Limited who are handling the campaign.

"There is nothing fickle about her and she is less adventuresome when it comes to trying new ideas and new products."

OFFER SAMPLES

Because of this, a number of firms plan—where practicable—to offer free samples when the products come on the market later this year.

There also are several basic differences in the English and Canadian approach to shopping with which manufacturers have to contend in trying to sell their goods here.

First, thousands of British housewives lack refrigerators and many others have small models with no freezing compartment. And the English woman usually does her shopping on foot—even the big supermarkets have no parking lots.

SHOPS OFTEN

Because of these two factors, she does her shopping three or four times a week and likes to buy in small quantities. Usually she has to pass up, perhaps reluctantly, most of the frozen foods.

And the heavy, difficult-to-store "giant economy size" holds little attraction for her.

Negotiations
Break Down

VERNON (CP)—School trustees and teachers in the Okanagan valley have abandoned valley-wide negotiations on teachers' salaries and left the matter to local school boards.

The move was made following a breakdown in efforts to settle the salary dispute by the Okanagan Valley Teachers' Association and Okanagan school trustees.

No Evidence Of Price Fix

OTTAWA (UPI)—The Restrictive Trade Practices Commission has been unable to uncover sufficient evidence to warrant prosecution against Canadian milling companies for recent increases in bread prices, Justice Minister Lionel Chevrier said yesterday.

He made the statement to the Commons after New Democrat leader T. C. Douglas asked whether the milling companies were "again guilty of price-fixing" following a previous prosecution in this regard.

College Yacht Limp Home After Ordeal Off Victoria

A private yacht which had to return to Victoria Sunday night after it was battered by a storm in Juan de Fuca Strait yesterday limped home to Seattle.

The 199-ton yacht Aquilo left Victoria at about 9 p.m. Sunday with her amateur crew and 34 University of Washington students who had come here to play football.

TO DUNGENESS

The old yacht, launched at Boston 62 years ago, ran into rough weather and had to turn back at Dungeness, 15 miles east of Port Angeles.

The yacht was buffeted by waves described by one passenger as easily 25 feet high.

Owner and captain John Scott Campbell, a University of Washington professor, said water was coming over the bow during the buffeting.

UP AND DOWN

"We were plunging up and down an easy 25 feet," he said. "The water flowed along the promenade deck a foot and a half deep."

He said the ship's superstructure splintered, the piano smashed and the refrigerator and galley range toppled over.

The forward bulkheads were smashed, her bow canopy was torn away, panes of glass were smashed and rigging torn loose.

ONE SLEPT

Most of the students were reported sick during the ordeal, but one said he slept through the whole trip.

"Tremendous masses of water were smashing at the glass on the pilothouse," said Prof. Campbell. "I'm surprised the windows didn't shatter."

He said 20-mile-an-hour winds were forecast for the strait but they hit a steady blow of 50 miles an hour off Dungeness.

DECISION RADIOED

They turned the ship around to head back to Victoria after radioing their decision to the U.S. Coast Guard.

Some passengers took ferries or flew back to Seattle yesterday, around Cape Horn and was used day, but most made the return trip aboard the Aquilo, which transport Victoria-based soldiers to Comox.

I had the impression that Orestes did not want to be left alone. He insisted on decorating the room with his collected objects that I had taken with me, and I watched as the hand drew firmly the familiar orphan's hand.

Outside it was still raining.

"You will come back if you miss the train? You must come back."

I reassured him as best I could, but through the window I glimpsed his silhouette as he continued to circle around in agitation before turning to walk swiftly away down the long shadowy corridor.

(London Sunday Times)

Are you the one person in three who might benefit from a low-cost Seaboard Mortgage Loan?

Borrow up to $10,000- as long as 10 years

What is a Seaboard Mortgage Loan? It is a low-cost loan for people who own, or are in the process of buying a home. The money you have invested in your property is excellent collateral for a Seaboard Mortgage Loan. And this means you get one of the lowest rates of interest to be found anywhere, because real estate offers such excellent security.

When should you take out a Seaboard Mortgage Loan? Only when it's to your advantage, and this can be worked out between you and your Seaboard manager. Here are some ways other people have benefited from Seaboard Mortgage Loans:

- To reduce your monthly mortgage payments.
- To pay off high-cost charge accounts and loans for furniture, car, clothing, etc. Often articles which you think you are buying at a saving are actually costing you an unnecessarily high price because of the variety of service and interest charges.
- To put your children through university or to make home improvements.
- To help you purchase a new or older home if you are having difficulty in raising the necessary mortgage money.
- To assist you in selling your home if a prospective buyer has difficulty in raising cash to your mortgage.

How much can you borrow? You can take out a Seaboard Mortgage Loan up to $10,000 or 80% of the market value of your home. What's more, monthly payments can be planned to fit your budget and leave you with extra cash each month.

Phone or write for all the details about the low-cost Seaboard mortgage loan. Or, better still, call in for a personal interview with your Seaboard manager. Evening appointments can be arranged.

SEABOARD

SECURITIES ONTARIO LIMITED

How does this special plan work? Here is an example of how a Seaboard Mortgage Loan can reduce your total monthly payments and save you money:

FILE NO. 32 — 4709 "MR. JONES"
HOUSE MARKET VALUE $12,500
Present Obligations	Present Monthly Payments
1st mortgage — $3,200	$ 70
Personal loan — 900	42
Balance on auto — 700	50
Total:	$4,800
Extra Money Required 500	$162 per mo.
Total Obligations:	$5,300
New monthly payments with a Seaboard Mortgage Loan — $96 per mo.

Total obligations consolidated into one Seaboard Mortgage Loan reduce monthly payments from $162 to $96—a 40% reduction in monthly payments, or $66 extra in your pocket each month.

What special benefits do you receive from dealing with Seaboard?

- You can renegotiate your contract anytime.
- Special life insurance pays your contract in full in event of death.
- You can repay ahead of schedule at no extra charge.
- No hidden charges of any kind.
- No "balance" or "balloon payments" of any kind.
- Minimum registration and legal fees.
- Everything open and above board.
- Seaboard's years of experience in the mortgage loan business.

Opium Charge Levelled, Break-In Count Dropped

Charges of breaking and entering and theft against a man accused of stealing a quantity of narcotics from McGill and Orme Oct. 10 were withdrawn in city magistrate's court yesterday.

Robert Ronald Smith, no fixed address, was charged with possession of opium just before the other charge was withdrawn. He was arrested by city police after a man was observed near a cache of drugs in Langford Oct. 20.

Bail was set at $7,000. Smith has elected trial by a judge and jury, and preliminary hearing has been set for Nov. 8.

A man made appearance in three Greater Victoria courts on five charges of forgery and one of passing a forged cheque.

Robert H. White, no fixed address, pleaded guilty to all charges and a female companion, Lynette Roberts, 1315 Stanley, pleaded guilty to one charge of passing a forged cheque.

OAK BAY STORE

Miss Roberts helped White cash a cheque for $138 at an Oak Bay supermarket Oct. 25.

White pleaded guilty to four charges of forgery in connection with four other cheques, each for $83, cashed Oct. 11 in Victoria, and one for $159 cashed on the same day in Saanich.

Both were remanded to Nov. 1 for probation report and sentence.

A man who claimed he was forced to take a sobriety test against his wishes was fined $300 in Esquimalt court on a charge of impaired driving.

George Wilson, 670 Fairways, Langford, was arrested after police clocked him at up to 60 miles an hour on Craigflower Road Saturday.

ONCE CROSSED

Court was told Wilson once crossed into the wrong lane while travelling west on the road.

Police said Wilson was quite abusive when arrested and became violent during his sobriety test.

Ian Stewart, who was representing Wilson, said Wilson stated to police he did not want to take the test and was not required to by law, but the test was continued.

Paul Schroeder, 352 Gorge, was fined $100 in city court for failing to remain at the scene of an accident and $45 for careless driving after he pleaded guilty to both charges.

Court was told his car made a wide turn at Douglas and Yates, sideswiping another car. Schroeder later phoned police and admitted he was involved in the accident.

Raymond Fisher, 2711 Claude in Langford, pleaded guilty in city court to impaired driving.

New Slide Hits Italian Dam

UDINE, Italy (AP) — Another huge landslide slid from Mt. Tuo Saturday into the partly emptied Valont Dam reservoir where a giant slide Oct. 9 caused a flood that took 3,000 lives. The new slide to-talled about 40,000 cubic metres of rock and dirt but caused no new damage or flooding.

Grain Moves

FORT WILLIAM (CP) — Twenty vessels cleared the lake-head with more than 15,000,000 bushels of grain during the weekend, following the settlement of the Seafarers' International Union's tie-up of Great Lakes ships.

Among them was the Canadian-owned bulk carrier J. N. McWatters which arrived here only partially loaded Sunday night after longshoremen at Duluth, Minn., refused to complete loading her.

Our Thanks

To the thousands of interested people who came to the opening of University Village, Blair and Shelbourne, over the weekend. We wish to thank you for your kind remarks about the design and quality of construction of our homes and the community planning of University Village.

Because of the crowds, many people were unfortunately unable to see the homes, so we are extending our opening through this week, from 2 to 5 p.m. and 7 to 9 p.m.

So many people have liked our houses and are talking advantage of the $500.00 Winter Work Bonus, that we have less than 20 lots left.

Bubbly Free

NEW YORK (AP) — A mid-Manhattan restaurant Monday began serving free champagne instead of water because of the city's water shortage.

To the glasses bearing the sparkling beverage, the assembly stood, some attached notes to glasses, saying: "With apologies of the management, during the water shortage, champagne will serve as a substitute. Please bear with us."

Manager Ronnie Drinkhouse said he would continue the policy until the drought ends.

Hospital Baby Deaths

NDP, Grits Demand 'Unbiased' Probe

By TERRY HAMMOND

B.C. Liberal leader Ray Perrault yesterday demanded a royal commission into charges of high infant mortality in B.C. hospitals.

Opposition Leader Robert

Stachan called for an unbiased and impartial investigation as a first step to determine whether or not there is any substance to the allegations.

But Health Minister Eric Martin, embroiled in a controversy with doctors since he threatened a probe of the medical profession last week, repeated that the investigation into infant mortality would be conducted by Deputy Health Minister Donald M. Cox and confined to one hospital.

Both Perrault and Stachan were sharply critical of Mr. Cox's appointment.

OWN HANDWORK

"How can a deputy minister investigate his own handwork?" the Liberal leader asked.

"Both Mr. Martin and Mr. Cox have something to protect," said the NDP chief.

Mr. Cox, meanwhile, was taking steps to find out more about the charges he is supposed to investigate.

SO HARASSED

Infant mortality made headlines last week when Dr. R. E. Adams, outspoken medical director of Victoria's St. Joseph's Hospital, said B.C. hospitals are so harassed by government policies they are unable to hire enough nurses for maternity wards.

"The result is the infant mortality rate in one hospital is twice what it should have been," he told the B.C. Hospital Association convention in Vancouver.

Health Minister Martin immediately denied the infant mortality rate was linked to government policy.

Then he threatened an in-

GARY QUAYLE

STAIRS CRUSH CITY WORKER

By BOB PETHICK

A 24-year-old electrical worker was crushed to death on a construction job at Fort and Douglas yesterday when a two-ton, pre-cast concrete stairway gave way under him and he plunged more than 30 feet.

It was believed Gary Quayle, 390 Quayle Road, a native of Victoria, was checking some electrical wiring between the sixth and seventh floor of the Bentall Building when the stairs gave and he fell to the fourth floor landing. There were no stairs between the fifth and sixth floors.

Workmen were unable to do anything immediately as the stairs were too heavy to be shifted off, police said.

The huge crane that towers over the eight-storey building had to be brought into action to lift the eighth-storey stairs out of the way before the workers were able to raise the stairs that had fallen to the fourth floor landing. There were no stairs between the fifth and sixth floors.

The young worker was pronounced dead at the scene by a doctor and taken to Chaplin's funeral chapel.

A Real Witch!

By EDDY GILMORE

BURLEY, England (AP)—Mrs. Sybil Leek—a real, live witch and proud of it—has everything ready for Halloween, including her big black cauldron.

"But I'm not riding any broom," she explains. "I'm walking on Halloween."

Then why the cauldron? "I'm taking it along—as I always do—because it gets darned cold up there in the forest."

The witch and the other 12 members of her coven will build a fire under the cauldron and brew some soup from herbs to keep them warm on Halloween.

Mrs. Leek lives in the heart of the New Forest, a spooky stretch of dense woods in Hampshire, about 100 miles southwest of London.

Mrs. Leek's coven includes both men and women. A coven is 13 witches or warlocks gathered in a witchcraft session. A warlock is a male witch.

"I'm a witch," she went on, "and I practise witchcraft because witchcraft is the only true religion. And please don't get any notion we're a lot of cranks."

She said witchcraft is much older than Christianity. "It seems to me the time is ripe for the old religion—and that's what witchcraft is—to re-establish itself. From what I know, there'll be no lack of adherents."

Asked how many witches

and warlocks live in Britain, she said: "I know of at least 600 covens."

This works out to be 7,000 practitioners of witchcraft.

"Riding a broom and all that business is foolish," said the witch.

"But don't you have a black cat?" she was asked.

"No, but I have a jackdaw and he's very black."

Mrs. Leek, who is in her late 30s, is married and has a son Julian, 12.

Mrs. Leek's husband Brian helps her with her sideline to witchcraft—an antique shop in the New Forest. Asked how he felt about his wife being a witch, Mr. Leek said:

"Let's put it this way—I'd rather have her on my side than against me."

20,000 Lose Jobs In Botulism Scare

Is Scandal Brewing

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Rep. H. R. Gross, an Iowa Republican, demanded to be told Monday whether any security violations were involved in the "deportation" of a West German beauty who bragged about her relations with what she called prominent Washington figures.

In a House speech, Gross also implied a connection between Mrs. Ella Rometsch, the 27-year-old wife of a German army sergeant, and the Senate inquiry into the activities of Robert G. (Bobby) Baker, former Senate Democratic secretary.

The Senate rules committee opens a closed-door investigation today into the multiple business deal of Baker, 35, who rose from Senate page boy to become an influential figure on Capitol Hill and a reputed millionaire.

Gross, a sometimes maverick congressman, said the House was concerned in the Baker case because it had been called on to approve his salary "as well as other federal funds spent by this Ponzi from Pickens, South Carolina."

Charles Ponzi was a financial manipulator who operated out of Boston in the 1920s.

"Among other things, I want to know the circumstances under which a young German woman was hastily deported from this country a few weeks ago following an FBI investigation," said Gross.

"Members of Congress and the public are entitled to know whether there was any element of security violation concerned in this speedy and hitherto unpublicized deportation."

In Bonn, a West German defence ministry spokesman said the woman described as a "ravishing beauty" was deemed a security risk because of her high living while in Washington. But he said a German investigation showed she had no contacts with Communists.

The German embassy in Washington said the woman's husband, a member of a German

Crowd Jeers in Edmonton

Screams Greet Hawrelak Foes at City Hall

EDMONTON (CPI)—A quietly, A man about 35—ap-screaming, jeering crowd of several hundred barred a small group of silent demonstrators from entering Edmonton's city hall Monday night.

About 50 police officers on hand were unable to control the crowd that guarded city hall entrances against 20 to 30 University of Alberta students and professors who were protesting William Hawrelak's election as mayor two weeks ago.

The demonstration started

Later, the students and professors attempted to walk up the steps but were violently shoved back and down. Police took a bearded man—who was not identified—and escorted him to a waiting chartered city transit bus.

Five policemen guarded the bus entrance as the crowd milled around shouting: "Go home you university punks, go home."

Edmonton Journal reporter Jim Hume was accosted by a woman about 50 years old.

"She snatched my notes from my hand and tore them to shreds," he said.

"It was rough out there."

The meeting was the second since Mayor Hawrelak was elected Oct. 18. Last week, four men attempted to read a statement during the council meeting and were arrested.

Mayor Hawrelak had resigned from the mayor's post in 1959 after a judicial inquiry charged him with "gross misconduct" while in office.

Bubbly Free

NEW YORK (AP) — A mid-Manhattan restaurant Monday began serving free champagne instead of water because of the city's water shortage.

To the glasses bearing the sparkling beverage, the assembly steak house attached notes to glasses, saying: "With apologies of the management, during the water shortage, champagne will serve as a substitute. Please bear with us."

Manager Ronnie Drinkhouse said he would continue the policy until the drought ends.

Hospital Baby Deaths

NDP, Grits Demand 'Unbiased' Probe

By TERRY HAMMOND

B.C. Liberal leader Ray Perrault yesterday demanded a royal commission into charges of high infant mortality in B.C. hospitals.

Opposition Leader Robert Strachan called for an unbiased and impartial investigation as a first step to determine whether or not there is any substance to the allegations.

But Health Minister Eric Martin, embroiled in a controversy with doctors since he threatened a probe of the medical profession last week, repeated that the investigation into infant mortality would be conducted by Deputy Health Minister Donald M. Cox and confined to one hospital.

Both Perrault and Strachan were sharply critical of Mr. Cox's appointment.

OWN HANDWORK

"How can a deputy minister investigate his own handwork? The Liberal leader asked.

"Both Mr. Martin and Mr. Cox have something to protect," said the NDP chief.

Mr. Cox, meanwhile, was taking steps to find out more about the charges he is supposed to investigate.

SO HARASSED

Infant mortality made headlines last week when Dr. R. E. Adams, outspoken medical director of Victoria's St. Joseph's Hospital, said B.C. hospitals are so harassed by government policies they are unable to hire enough nurses for maternity wards.

"The result is the infant mortality rate in one hospital is twice what it should have been," he told the B.C. Hospital Association convention in Vancouver.

Health Minister Martin immediately denied the infant mortality rate was linked to government policy.

Then he threatened an investigation.

GARY QUAYLE

By BOB PETHICK

A 24-year-old electrical worker was crushed to death on a construction job at Fort and Douglas yesterday when a two-ton, pre-cast concrete stairway gave way under him and he plunged more than 30 feet.

It was believed Gary Quayle, 380 Quayle Road, a native of Victoria, was checking some electrical wiring between the sixth and seventh floor of the Bentall Building when the stairs gave and he fell to the fourth floor steps when the heavy concrete stairs crushed him.

After nearly losing eye in fireworks accident Sunday, Jimmy Caldwell, 428 Montreal, promises his mother

he is through with firecrackers.— (Bud Kinsman)

Fireworks Burn Two Boys

'I Guess I'm Lucky'

By ALAN CAMPBELL

A boy lay — almost afraid to move — in St. Joseph's Hospital last night and offered this advice to youngsters playing with firecrackers: "Find something else to play with."

In Royal Jubilee Hospital, another boy is recovering from similar injuries. His mother says she wishes she had "never heard of fireworks."

Both boys are 11, just two of six children who suffered painful burns over the weekend as a result of the improper handling of fireworks.

City Police Unhappy Council Unconvinced

None of the injuries resulted from deliberate hoodlums, but police have received numerous reports of vandalism involving the fireworks—and they plan a crackdown. Jimmy Caldwell, 428 Montreal, was playing with several other children near his home Sunday. They were lighting fireworks and throwing them on the ground. One of them struck the ground just as it exploded, shattered and a flaming segment of the casing flew into Jimmy's face.

Now, provided he does not move around too much and aggravate the injury, doctors can save his eye.

"I guess I'm lucky," he said yesterday. "But that's it for me—no more firecrackers."

Gerd Dybdal, 808 Cloverdale, suffered a similar injury Sunday when he picked up a firecracker thinking it was a dud. It exploded and flaming powder seared his eye.

His mother told the Colonist the boy's eye may be saved "if everything goes the way it should."

"But I wish they didn't sell firecrackers of any kind at all," she said. "This was too close."

Considering

City police say they are considering prosecutions for deliberate and flagrant violations of the bylaw, which says fireworks must be exploded only on the child's own property.

"It's pretty difficult to enforce," said one officer. "We can't arrest every kid shooting them off on the street."

Police switchboards have been cracking with literally dozens of calls every day from people reporting teenagers throwing firecrackers at cars and pedestrians.

No Teeth

"This is the kind of thing we are trying to stop," said the officer. "But they are hard to catch, especially when almost every youngster is carrying the things."

"The bylaw has no teeth." An informal poll of some members of city council indicates no change is planned in the present bylaw.

None of the aldermen questioned plans to ask council for more rigid restrictions governing the sale or use of the fireworks.

Adult Job

Ald. Lily Wilson said she was not in favor of more regulations if these could be avoided.

"I'm afraid it is up to the adults to take charge of firecrackers or at least to make sure their children know how to use them safely," she said.

Ald. Millard Mooney said council has taken what he considers adequate precautions by prohibiting exploding of firecrackers in any public place.

Ald. Geoffrey Edgewood said police were there to enforce the bylaw prohibiting exploding firecrackers anywhere off private property.

"Fun is fun," he said, "but it gets beyond that stage when fireworks thrown out of passing cars scare elderly people and small children."

By Clubs

Ald. Edgewood said he favored organized displays put on by clubs and community groups.

Ald. J. L. W. McLean said he opposed sale of firecrackers to juveniles but was in favor of fireworks displays supervised by adults.

Prospector Wants to See Hills Again

Pioneer Lifted to Civilization

TOFINO — It took fast talking and hard work but Noble Cornelius, at 79 still actively prospecting an area he helped pioneer in the 1830s, was persuaded last week to come to Tofino from his remote claims.

Mr. Cornelius staked some of the original Bedwell River gold rush claims and is still living there, caring for himself.

John Wood, watchman of the Musketeer Gold Mines at Bedwell River, became worried over the old man as the weather worsened recently.

A leg that had been bothering Mr. Cornelius made it difficult for him to keep himself supplied with firewood.

Mr. Wood's persuasion won out—and then the work began. He had to help his elderly neighbor for all the first eight miles.

Some of the region's bridges had been damaged in recent storms, and at times Mr. Wood had to carry his elderly friend across the rivers.

Finally reaching Bedwell Sound, they radioed to Tofino and a helicopter made the rest of the trip swift and easy.

Mr. Cornelius spent the first night in Tofino General Hospital—and now is wondering how soon he can get back to his claims in the hills.

Fight in North Cowichan?

Staples Quits Council To Seek Reeve's Job

Staples

NORTH COWICHAN — A December municipal election fight is shaping up with Coun. Tony Staples, who normally would have another year on the council, resigning his seat to run for reeve. A contest for the top position may result.

Reeve Donald Morton's term will be completed this year but he has made no final decision on future plans. He has been serving on the North Cowichan council for 10 years, six years as councillor and the rest as reeve.

The vacant seat of Coun. Staples will require a by-election as the successor will only have to complete the term ending in December, 1964.

Handing in his resignation yesterday, Coun. Staples said his campaign for the reeveship will have six major points:

- Formation of a commercial and industrial committee to encourage new enterprises.
- Work toward the formation of a recreation commission.
- Demanding of new subdivision developers to establish a park within the subdivision, or if not possible to contribute toward a park fund.

- A pro-tem flood protection plan for people in the Wall subdivision and at Westholme, as a large-scale solution cannot be expected in the foreseeable future.
- Work toward the beautification of built-up areas without an increase in taxes and with an initial start at Chemainus.

- Planning toward the establishment of a water district which at least will serve the entire municipality.

Besides the seat vacated by Coun. Staples, four other council seats, of which two will be newly established at the beginning of next year, will be available.

Two councillors, Mrs. Elaine Dobbins and Reg Clegg, have decided to run again.

Running for one of the new

UBC Expert:

Smoked-Fish Ban Urged

NANAIMO — If you have smoked fish in your refrigerator you run the risk of being gravely ill or dying. UBC Prof. Claude Dolman, a world expert on botulism, has warned in Vancouver.

When three people died in Nanaimo in 1965 from botulism it was only the third recorded outbreak in the world and the first in Canada. Since then there have been 20 deaths on the Pacific Coast caused by botulism. The fatality rate is from 30 to 100 per cent.

MORE DEATHS

Dr. Dolman urged legislation banning the sale of smoked fish as reports came in Sunday of more deaths caused by smoked fish in Eastern Canada.

Dr. Dolman said the fatalities in the East were caused by eating a product that was put up in sealed wrappers. This is a dangerous practice, he said, because the organism grows best out of contact with the air.

The U.S. Food and Drug Administration has urged homemakers to destroy smoked fish products they have in their refrigerators if the fish were caught in the Great Lakes or processed in Great Lakes area plants.

Dr. Dolman says it doesn't matter where the fish are caught. He claims fish products which are smoked, or prepared for eating, without having been cooked, should not be allowed to be sold.

INDIANAPOLIS

Three years ago the Indianapolis health commissioner banned the sale of smoked fish in sealed wrappers and Dr. Dolman thinks it was a good idea.

Last week in Montreal a boy died from eating sandwiches made from canned liver paste which contained the deadly poison. A can of the paste found in Vancouver was sent to Ottawa for analysis.

Since then a third can has been found in a Montreal store and Montreal food authorities have issued a warning not to use Paragon brand liver paste.

Alberni Valley Oldsters

Goal: Century House

PORT ALBERNI — Alberni Valley oldsters want a Century House of their own.

A group of Old Age Pensioners' Organization members came back recently full of enthusiasm after spending a day at the New Westminster social and recreation centre for senior citizens.

"It's just out of this world," said president Mrs. Pearl Corbett, as she described the building and program dedicated to happier old age. "We had a royal welcome and a wonderful time."

Ald. W. Ballantyne of New Westminster had lunch with the visitors and about 100 members.

Duncan Russell, who came to Port Alberni as parks and recreation director earlier this year, accompanied the busload of oldsters to the mainland.

Mrs. Corbett reported Ald. Ballantyne and members of Century House Association had lauded Mr. Russell's part in establishment of the centre as the New Westminster centennial project in 1958.

At that time he was chairman of the centennial committee of the community.

She told of entertainment provided at the lunch hour by Century House Glee Club and a ukulele group. As they toured the building, the visitors saw members playing bridge, canasta, whist and cribbage. They watched a class of 13 senior citizens receiving instruction in painting.

"Some of their works, paintings of landscapes and flowers, were very well done, although all of the 'artists' were really just beginners," Mrs. Corbett said.

She told of the workrooms for those interested in handicrafts where projects ranging from the making of plastic flowers to quilting were underway.

During the afternoon the auditorium was in use for dancing and the visitors came back to find about 60 pensioners taking part in what appeared to be a favorite pastime of Century House.

"None of the dancers was under 70 years of age and there was a dear old man of 94 having a wonderful time on the dance floor. There were square dances, old fashioned two-steps and waltzes on the program."

Century House has a membership of 627, with each given the special privilege of their private club.

The building is open until 4 p.m. six days each week, while frequent evening functions are in the program. A Halloween dance is planned.

Duncan Driver

Autopsy to Decide Cause of Death

DUNCAN — Police here are waiting for the result of an autopsy which will determine whether 38-year-old Eddie

Henry Olson of Duncan died of a heart attack before his car smashed into a bridge about 100 yards from the Trans-Canada Highway one mile north of Duncan.

Coroner Dr. J. S. Goodbrand said an inquiry will be held as no one witnessed the accident.

The car was proceeding north. Mr. Olson was found dead by police officers.

Mr. Olson was born at Thief River Falls, Minn., and moved to Saskatchewan, where he resided most of his life, when he was two years old.

For 10 years he had been coming to Duncan during the winter months. Two years ago he retired and took up residence on Bell-McKinnon Road.

Services will be held from the Hirst Funeral Chapel Wednesday followed by interment at the Mt. View Cemetery in Somenos.

Control on the Trans-Canada Highway and rolled over three times, landing in a ditch four miles north of Duncan.

The new car, valued at $2,300, was demolished, police said.

Members are charged 10 cents for their coffee and the same amount for each painting class or other activity which they join. This makes up a special fund which is used for such things as flowers for members in hospital, wedding gifts or to finance special functions such as the annual Christmas party.

"We're going to try to get a Century House here," Mrs. Corbett declared.

While details of federal and provincial grants for projects of Canada's centennial year, 1967, are being worked out, a campaign for community support for the plan will start.

"This is the kind of thing we are trying to stop," said the officer. "But they are hard to catch, especially when almost every youngster is carrying the things."

"The bylaw has no teeth." An informal poll of some members of city council indicates no change is planned in the present bylaw.

None of the aldermen questioned plans to ask council for more rigid restrictions governing the sale or use of the fireworks.

"I'm afraid it is up to the adults to take charge of firecrackers or at least to make sure their children know how to use them safely," she said.

Alberni Bit Wet

ALBERNI — With four days still to go, rainfall for October here has surpassed Victoria's annual average.

Total from Oct. 1 to 28 at McCoy Lake weather station was 18.85 inches, with 7.95 inches measured in the week ending at 5:30 a.m. Monday.

Skindivers Have Money Problem

ALBERNI — Three Vancouver Island skindivers scheduled to represent Canada in the world skindiving competition in Brazil Nov. 28 have a money problem.

The three, Ken Stryan, Armand Paquette and Ray Linden, all of the Alberni area, along with a Vancouver team member, will have to pay their own travel and living expenses for the two-week competition in Rio de Janeiro.

The skindivers have raised $1,000 themselves and have applied to the provincial government for a $1,500 grant. If the grant is forthcoming, they would still need about $800 to cover expenses.

Winter Road Work Starts in Oak Bay

Two road improvement projects, together costing some $160,000, are slated for the pre-Christmas period in Oak Bay's winter works program, beginning Friday.

Work is to begin soon on the first stage of a two-step program to widen and improve Cadboro Bay Road.

ON WIDENING This year's section is expected to cost about $130,000, with a like sum expected to be spent on widening the rest of the road next winter.

The provincial government,

Oak Bay and owners of property on Cadboro Bay Road are sharing the cost of the work.

STREETS NAMED The road is to be improved this winter from Cedar Hill Cross Road to Hibbins Close at the Saanich boundary, and from Dalhousie to Thompson.

Work is also planned to improve Dalhousie from Cadboro Bay Road to Eastdowne. Property owners on the street petitioned to share the cost of the $31,000 local improve-

Suspected Liver Paste Not in Local Stores

A thorough check of Greater Victoria retail and wholesale outlets has turned up no sign of the canned liver paste that has been blamed for the death of a Montreal boy, metro health authorities said yesterday.

Dr. J. L. W. Whitbread, senior medical health officer for Greater Victoria, said metro health officials and federal food and drug inspectors had covered all local food outlets.

Earlier, one can of liver paste bearing a Paragon brand and produced in the east was located in Vancouver. The can had been mailed from Montreal about three months ago. None of the cans has been found in west coast groceries.

The paste is suspected to contain the deadly botulism organism. The Montreal boy died last week after eating some of the paste.

Hope, Well-Being Mark UN Day

DUNCAN — A spirit of "hope and well-being" marked the 18th anniversary ceremony at United Nations headquarters in New York last week, Dr. Hugh Keenleyside told Canadians here Sunday.

The speaker is a former director-general of the United Nations Technical Assistance and Administration and is now co-chairman of the B.C. Hydro Authority.

Dr. Keenleyside said "remarkable changes" have taken place at the UN since the East-West conflict over Cuba and the Congo, and the test ban treaty could be considered as a fore-taste of the future.

He said with the big powers paying more attention to conventional weapons, there is hope that nuclear weapons never will be used.

Dr. Keenleyside feels the division between Red China and Russia has broken the monopoly of the power between the United States and Russia as has another centre in Europe with de Gaulle as one of the principals.

STILL PROBLEMS

He said in its 18 years of existence the UN's position is better than ever before, although some of the problems still remain to be solved.

One of them is the isolation of Red China and he feels representatives of the largest country in the world must have their say in the UN.

The change in Britain's political leadership he described as unfortunate for the UN, as the present prime minister, former foreign minister Lord Home, has not shown good co-operation at Geneva.

Another UN problem is the alliance for progress in the Latin American countries which made little headway and Dr. Keenleyside noted it is distressing that four new dictatorships have been formed in some of the countries there.

Another matter for concern to the UN is the periodical refusal of Russia and France to contribute financially to program they don't want to support.

Giberson Moved To Nanaimo

CPL. GIBERSON

LAKE COWICHAN — Head of the RCMP detachment here for the past three and a half years, Cpl. Bert Giberson has been transferred to the Nanaimo detachment.

He will start his new duties this Friday. His successor here will be Cpl. Gordon S. Irvine from the Duncan RCMP detachment and Cpl. Ray James from Nanaimo.

Cpl. Giberson was feted at a stag party at Lake Cowichan Friday night, attended by 90 people.

In appreciation of his services to the community he was given a transistor radio.

Oil Reserve Increased

CALGARY (CP)—The Alberta Oil and Gas Conservation Board has announced that its estimate of reserves of oil in the province's Athabasca oil sands total more than 700,000,000 barrels.

This figure is higher than previous—and sometimes considered optimistic—estimates of the oil industry of 500,000,000 barrels.

Militia Busy in Nanaimo Exercises

NANAIMO — The Nanaimo area was the scene of a variety of military exercises carried out by members of Vancouver Island militia over the week-end.

Units of the Canadian Scottish Regiment under command of Major J. Callagher of Duncan came from Duncan, Port Alberni, Courtenay and Nanaimo.

An RCAF Expiditer from 419 Squadron gave co-operation during camouflage and concealment training in the Cassidy airport area.

"Advance to contact" and company in attack exercises were engaged in on Saturday. Night patrols were carried out in the vicinity of Nanaimo army camp where 75 were billeted.

A co-operation exercise was carried out by the visiting militiamen and a unit of the B.C. regiment to demonstrate methods of infantry and armour working together.

Officer commanding Lt. Col. M. W. E. Allen was also observing the exercises.

DUNCAN — Everett Richard Sobotka, 21, of Squamish died Sunday at the King's Daughters' Hospital here of injuries received in a head-on day when a car went off Highway 4 at Cameron Lake.

The vehicle, driven by Richard C. Burnip, 202 Sixth Ave. N., crashed down a 10-foot embankment but was caught in brush just above the waterline.

Burnip was driving east when his car went out of control and over the embankment. Roof of the vehicle was caved in but the driver was not injured.

It was one of several accidents investigated by RCMP, Alberni detachment, over the weekend.

Wilhelm Carl Nystrom of South Morgan Crescent, Alberni, was taken to West Coast General Hospital for treatment for cuts after his car struck a parked vehicle in the 100 block Gertrude Street early Saturday evening. The other car involved is owned by Gilbert Benwick, 410 Seventh Ave. S., Port Alberni.

A Greek Seaman, Michael Zotos, was treated for a head cut after the motorcycle on which he was a passenger was involved in a collision at Southgate and Gertrude streets Saturday afternoon.

The motorbike was operated by George Karavas, a shipmate of the injured man.

collision two weeks ago near Duncan on Cowichan Lake Road.

He had been a passenger in an auto driven by Clifford Bergstrom, 25, of Lake Cowichan.

Duncan coroner Dr. J. S. Goodbrand said an inquest will be held later.

NANAIMO — Arthur Allan of Brightman Road, Cedar, was found dead in the Cedar area Saturday afternoon.

He had been hunting and the deer he had bagged was found about 100 yards away from where he was found, lying face down with his gun underneath him.

Cause of death has not yet been determined but it is believed he may have suffered from a heart attack.

No inquest is planned unless any facts brought out at the inquiry after the autopsy necessitate one.

PARKSVILLE — Ratepayers of Parksville will go to the polls Dec. 5 to elect a chairman of the village commission for a two-year term, two commissioners for two-year terms, one commissioner for a one-year term, one school trustee for a two-year term and also to vote on a referendum: "Are you in favor of a garbage collection system?"

Nominations will close at noon on Monday, Nov. 25. A court of revision for the annual voters' list will sit at the municipal office on Friday, Nov. 1 at 7:30 p.m.

There are about 766 eligible voters on the list at present.

NANAIMO — Arrowsmith Rangers and Westview Roofers opened the Mid-Island Hockey League in great style Sunday.

Rangers beat Duncan Falcons, 6-1, getting the hat trick from Gerry Shires, two goals from Roy Saunders and one from Ken Henderson. Al Zinga scored for the losers.

Roofers whipped United Rentals, a juvenile club, 10-3. Crawly and Alton scored twice, with single goals going to Young, Murray, Thomas, Henderson, Larry Thomas, Jamieson and Koster. Bracewell, Hayes and Laughlin replied for Rentals.

ALBERNI — The driver had a narrow escape at noon Sun-

NANAIMO — Nanaimo's No. 205 air cadet squadron has been named the best in British Columbia for the second consecutive year, at the annual meeting of the B.C. Committee, Air Cadet League of Canada.

The Nanaimo cadets, commanded by Sqdn. Ldr. S. L. Davies, retain the D. R. MacLaren Trophy they won in 1962 as the best all-round squadron of the 34 in the province. Civilian sponsoring committee of the squadron is headed by J. W. Neil of Nanaimo.

Named top non-commissioned officer in B.C. was Flight Sgt. Wayne Harbo of No. 257 Sqdn. Ladysmith. He wins the B. O. Mayne Trophy.

DUNCAN — Police Court: William Di Castri, Vancouver, and Reg Dorman, Nanaimo, operating motor vehicles contrary to conditions of their licences, $20 and $15 respectively; June Flanagan, Duncan, driving with expired licences, $12; Guy Jan Antila, Chemainus, carrying loaded firearm in car, $25.

DUNCAN — Albert Raymond Apps of Lake Cowichan was found guilty on an impaired driving charge and sentenced to 14 days imprisonment without option of a fine.

He was suspended from driving anywhere in Canada for one year. It was his second similar offence.

NANAIMO — The Associated Canadian Travellers of Nanaimo presented $723, raised in the wishing well float in the May Day parade, to the Canadian Arthritis and Rheumatism Society.

The presentation, made Friday at the Tideview Hotel, was made to Miss Daphne Miller of C.A.R.S. by Roger Guedes, chairman of A.C.T.

The money, all in five-dollar bills, was made up into the form of a bluebird, which is the symbol of C.A.R.S.

Thanking Mr. Guedes on behalf of C.A.R.S., Miss Miller gave a brief outline of what the money would buy for the society.

The washing action that dares to be different

up down—330 times a minute

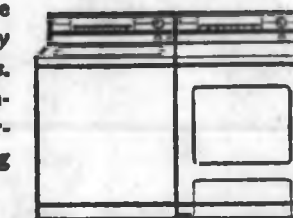

Why up and down? Less wear and tear on clothes. Only a Frigidaire Washer's agitator works this way. All Frigidaire Washers work up and down. Not sideways.

Why not sideways? Because sideways agitators wash by dragging clothes through the water. Back and forth. Back and forth. Too many pulled threads.

Up and down is kinder to your clothes. Safer. Instead of dragging clothes through the water, the Frigidaire agitator pumps sudsy water through the clothes. Keeps clothes entirely underwater too. Always circulating. Never letting them ride up.

And it works. Give even the heaviest, dirtiest denims 6600 ups and downs and they come thoroughly clean. But that's easy. The real test is with your dainty things. They don't take kindly to backs and forths. But they come clean gently with ups and downs. No drag. Anything you can put in water can be washed in the Frigidaire up-down Washer.

More facts: You can use liquid or powder washing aids. You can spin water out fast when washing's done, leaving clothes barely damp and saving drying time. Still more facts? See your Frigidaire Washer dealer. See his matching dryers, too.

Hospital Baby Deaths

NDP, Grits Demand 'Unbiased' Probe

By TERRY HAMMOND

B.C. Liberal leader Ray Perrault yesterday demanded a royal commission into charges of high infant mortality in B.C. hospitals.

Opposition Leader Robert Strachan called for an unbiased and impartial investigation as a first step to determine whether or not there is any substance to the allegations.

But Health Minister Eric Martin, embroiled in a controversy with doctors since he threatened a probe of the medical profession last week, repeated that the investigation into infant mortality would be conducted by Deputy Health Minister Donald M. Cox and confined to one hospital.

Both Perrault and Strachan were sharply critical of Mr. Cox's appointment.

OWN HANDWORK

"How can a deputy minister investigate his own handwork? The Liberal leader asked.

"Both Mr. Martin and Mr. Cox have something to protect," said the NDP chief.

Mr. Cox, meanwhile, was taking steps to find out more about the charges he is supposed to investigate.

SO HARASSED

Infant mortality made headlines last week when Dr. R. E. Adams, outspoken medical director of Victoria's St. Joseph's Hospital, said B.C. hospitals are so harassed by government policies they are unable to hire enough nurses for maternity wards.

"The result is the infant mortality rate in one hospital is twice what it should have been," he told the B.C. Hospital Association convention in Vancouver.

Health Minister Martin immediately denied the infant mortality rate was linked to government policy.

Then he threatened an in-

STAIRS KILL CITY WORKER

By BOB PETHICK

A 24-year-old electrical worker was crushed to death on a construction job at Fort and Douglas yesterday when a two-ton, pre-cast concrete stairway gave way under him and he plunged more than 30 feet.

It was believed Gary Quayle, 360 Quayle Road, a native of Victoria, was checking some electrical wiring between the sixth and seventh floor of the Bentall Building when the stairs gave and he fell to the fourth floor steps when the heavy concrete stairs crushed him.

Workmen were unable to do anything immediately as the stairs were too heavy to be shifted off, police said.

CRANE NEEDED

The huge crane that towers over the eight-story building had to be brought into action to lift the eighth-story stairs out of the way before the workers were able to raise the stairs that had fallen to the fourth floor landing. There were no stairs between the fifth and sixth floors.

DEAD AT SCENE

The young worker was pronounced dead at the scene by a doctor and taken to Chaplin's funeral chapel.

Dominion Construction first aid man D. G. Rogers, 679 Battery Street, was one of the first on the accident scene. He

'Get Us Out'

PEINE, Germany (UPI)—Rescue workers sank a huge oil well drill deep into rocky soil Monday in an attempt to reach three iron miners trapped in a cold, water-filled mine pocket since last Thursday.

"You better get us out of here by tonight," one of the men said last night via a telephone as water cascaded into the mine.

But mine officials said the drill probably would not complete a hole big enough to carry a rescue capsule to the men, 282 feet underground, until Thursday.

Opposition Defeats Ruling in Ottawa

OTTAWA (CP)—The House of Commons opposition defeated a Speaker's ruling Monday and injected nuclear arms into a non-confidence defence debate.

By a vote of 55 to 53, Conservatives, New Democrats and Creditist groups joined to reverse a ruling by Deputy Speaker Lucien Lamoureux that a Creditist sub-amendment was out of order.

It accused the government of "servilely" accepting nuclear arms for storage in the "state of Quebec" despite opposition from various sections of the Quebec public.

CHURCHILL MOTION

The deputy said it went beyond a Conservative non-confidence motion proposed by Gordon Churchill, former defence minister, who alleged massive confusion in the defence department.

This was the first time this session that a Speaker's ruling had been reversed. This does not force the minority Liberal government to resign.

The sub-amendment will be voted on tonight and this—if carried by the opposition—would be a government defeat.

German Beauty 'Deported'

U.S. Scandal Brewing

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Rep. H. R. Gross, an Iowa Republican, demanded to be told Monday whether any security violations were involved in the "deportation" of a West German beauty who bragged about her relations with what she called prominent Washington figures.

Baker

In a House speech, Gross also implied a connection between Mrs. Ella Rometsch, the 27-year-old wife of a German army sergeant, and the Senate inquiry into the activities of Robert G. (Bobby) Baker, former Senate Democratic secretary.

The Senate rules committee opens a closed-door investigation today into the multiple business deal of Baker, 35, who rose from Senate page boy to become an influential figure on Capitol Hill and a reputed millionaire.

Gross, a sometimes maverick congressman, said the House was concerned in the Baker case because it had been called on to approve his salary "as well as other federal funds spent by this Ponzi from Pickens, South Carolina."

Charles Ponzi was a financial manipulator who operated out of Boston in the 1920s.

"Among other things, I want to know the circumstances under which a young German woman was hastily deported from this country a few weeks ago following an FBI investigation," said Gross.

"Members of Congress and the public are entitled to know whether there was any element of security violation concerned in this speedy and hitherto unpublicized deportation."

In Bonn, a West German defence ministry spokesman said the woman described as a "travelling beauty" was deemed a security risk because of her high living while in Washington. But he said a German investigation showed she had no contacts with Communists.

The German embassy in Washington said the woman's husband, a member of a German

Mystery Woman

A Real Witch!

By EDDY GILMORE

BURLEY, England (AP)—Mrs. Sybil Leek—a real, live witch and proud of it—has everything ready for Halloween, including her big black cauldron.

"But I'm not riding any broom," she explains. "I'm walking on Halloween."

Then why the cauldron? "I'm taking it along—as I always do—because it gets darned cold up there in the forest."

The witch and the other 12 members of her coven will build a fire under the cauldron and brew some soup from herbs to keep them warm on Halloween.

Mrs. Leek lives in the heart of the New Forest, a

Only True Religion

spooky stretch of dense woods in Hampshire, about 100 miles southwest of London.

Mrs. Leek's coven includes both men and women. A coven is 13 witches or warlocks gathered in a witchcraft session. A warlock is a male witch.

"I'm a witch," she went on, "and I practise witchcraft because witchcraft is the only true religion. And please don't get any notion we're a lot of cranks."

She said witchcraft is much older than Christianity.

"It seems to me the time is ripe for the old religion—and that's what witchcraft is—to re-establish itself. From what I know, there'll be no lack of adherents."

Asked how many witches

and warlocks live in Britain, she said: "I know of at least 600 covens."

This works out to be 7,800 practitioners of witchcraft.

"Riding a broom and all that business is foolish," said the witch.

"But don't you have a black cat?" she was asked.

"No, but I have a jackdaw and he's very black."

Mrs. Leek, who is in her late 30s, is married and has a son Julian, 12.

Mrs. Leek's husband Brian helps her with her sideline in witchcraft—an antique shop in the New Forest. Asked how he felt about his wife being a witch, Mr. Leek said:

"Let's put it this way—I'd rather have her on my side than against me."

20,000 Lose Jobs In Botulism Scare

DETROIT (AP)—A total of 20,000 Great Lake fishing industry workers will have been laid off this week because of the botulism food poisoning scare, industry men said Monday. (See also Page 19.)

Crowd Jeers in Edmonton

Screams Greet Hawrelak Foes at City Hall

EDMONTON (CP) — A quietly, A man about 35-ap-screaming, jeering crowd of several hundred barred a small group of silent demonstrators from entering Edmonton's city hall Monday night.

About 50 police officers on hand were unable to control the crowd that gathered city hall entrances against 20 to 30 University of Alberta students and professors who were protesting William Hawrelak's election as mayor two weeks ago.

The demonstration started

Later, the students and professors attempted to walk up the steps but were violently shoved back and down. Police took a bearded man—who was not identified—and escorted him to a waiting chartered city transit bus.

Five policemen guarded the bus entrance as the crowd milled around shouting: "Go home you university punks, go home."

Edmonton Journal reporter Jim Hume was accosted by a woman about 30 years old.

"She snatched my notes from my hand and tore them to shreds," he said.

"It was rough out there."

The meeting was the second since Mayor Hawrelak was elected Oct. 16. Last week, four men attempted to read a statement during the council meeting and were arrested.

Mayor Hawrelak had resigned from the mayor's post in 1959 after a judicial inquiry charged him with "gross misconduct" while in office.
